Early Enough Senators in Favor of Smoot Proposal to Secure Action.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Sales tax proposals in the Senate claimed to have come to the necessary majority to pass through one of three Senate committees. The bill, which would impose a tax of 4 percent on the sale of goods, is being pushed by Senator Fordney of Ohio, who is supported by a number of Democratic supporters.

FOUR VOTES SHORT.

These behind the Smoot plan said that calculations tonight gave a margin of not less than forty-two Republicans and three Democrats. The bill, which would impose a tax of 4 percent on the sale of goods, is being pushed by Senator Fordney of Ohio, who is supported by a number of Democratic supporters.

PENROSE'S VIEW.

This was denied by Senator Penrose in charge of the bill, who said it was not the time to bring forward a sales tax. He assured the Senate that even if all the items proposed for repeal went out of the bill there would be a margin of 110-90 between government income and revenue.

TAKES THROWN OUT.

Luxury taxes struck from the bill by the Senate included those on articles made of fur, toilet soaps and toilet powders, tooth and mouth washes, dentifrices, tooth paste, electric fans, thermos and thermoplastic bottles and photographic apparatus and accessories.

TWO MEN SAVED FROM DEATH IN NIAGARA

NIAGARA FALLS (N. Y.) Nov. 1.—Two men in a small boat were rescued tonight at the brink of the rapids above the falls after a struggle of three hours. The pair lost an oar while on the river and drifted toward the rapids. Fortunately they bumped against a crib to which they clung. Darkness had fallen, but their cries were heard and the alarm given. The fire departments on both sides of the river put searchlights into play and hundreds of automobiles faced the river bank in a vain effort to locate the men, whose cries could be heard. The illumination lights of the Cataract were turned on and men were stationed on the Goat Island bridge to rescue the victims should they be swept toward the falls. After three hours, when the men had not been located, a motorboat crew of firemen volunteered to skirt the rapids and find the two men clinging to the crib and brought them safely to land.

TO GO ANY LENGTH TO GAIN AMITY

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—British delegates to the Conference on Limitation of Armaments will go to Washington resolved that, short of compromising the safety of the empire or its sea security, they will go to almost any lengths to meet other great naval powers in a mutual and proportionate effort to relieve their people from the burden of competitive armament.

BLIND SNAKE GIVEN SIGHT

Operate on Optics of Cobra.

Zoo's Most Dangerous Specimen Treated at Risk of Death by Keeper.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—One of the most dangerous specimens on record took place this afternoon at the New York Zoological Park. The operation was unique in that the risk was sustained entirely by the operators and not by the patient.

Old King Cobra, who according to Dr. E. L. Dittmar, curator, has never been christened because he was too dangerous to handle, had enough of his skin bag to get him discovered, underwent the operation.

Dr. Dittmar, Head Keeper John Toomer, an Assistant Keeper Fred Taggart underwent the risk.

Old King Cobra, who arrived at the park ten days ago from Singapore in a teakwood cage, had failed to shed his spring and summer spectacles while displaying himself in his light-weight clothes. As a result he was temporarily blind.

EYES ARE PEERLED.
Dr. Dittmar, upon consulting the fact that Old King Cobra was the finest specimen of his serpentine species, decided that no risk was too great to preserve his physical form and health. He will watch how a door opens and on hearing the slightest sign at the door will cast himself into the water.

The danger in this operation was not underestimated by the park employees. Dr. Dittmar, who is not only a skilled surgeon, but also a trained soldier, altered the most deadly of snakes, but the most dangerous of all living creatures. He is aggressive and intelligent. He will attack a man on hearing the slightest sign at the door will cast himself into the water.

Parade of Veterans of World War Inspiration to All Who See It.

LEADERS REVIEW HOST OF LEGION.

Khaki-Clad Veterans March Through Kansas City.

Throng Watch Procession for Three Whole Hours.

Magnificent Memorial Given Formal Dedication.

State ports had passed. The parade began under a bright sun and ended when the purple shadows of the autumn evening blended with the heavier shades of dusk. The huge crowds in the rapid-of streets stayed until the last. All of the Allied chieftains declared the spectacle had made upon their minds an indelible impression.

All spoke particularly of the execution of the custom followed by the color bearers in dipping departmental and post standards and holding aloft the Stars and Stripes. The American leaders were particularly gratified, they said, to know that the Legionnaires had not forgotten the art of marching.

Dozens of hands made the parade a continual flash of martial and popular moods. Each State delegation had one or two and some had half a dozen. Colorado's seven-foot drum major was an especial attraction.

KANSAS IN LEAD.
The whole parade was colorful. Kansas had the largest number in line, 4000 men and women marching. Missouri was second. Gen. Pershing was especially interested in the Missouri and Nebraska departments, explaining to Marshal Foch that they represented his two home States, Missouri the State in which he was born and Nebraska where he makes his home.

When the delegation from Linn county, the general's birthplace, passed it did not salute, but waved a welcome to him. He waved back and shouted words of greeting. The Lincoln (Nebr.) post, which claims him as its member, carried his picture on a standard.

California's big delegation got a cheer when it passed the reviewing stand carrying a huge banner which said: "To New Orleans in 1922." The Californians were defeated Monday night when they sought to have San Francisco as the next year's convention city over New Orleans.

VETERANS OF OTHER WARS.
A number of representatives of the G.A.R., United Confederate Veterans and Spanish War Veterans marched. Kansas' bands were helped along by a G.A.R. drum corps, while Florida had three Confederate veterans.

The baby widest brought here by airplane and presented to Marshal Foch this morning by the Montana delegate was carried in the arms of the Montana marchers, men and women, appeared in western costumes.

Although they were ready to get under way early in the afternoon the length of the procession was such that the men from West Virginia, Wisconsin and Washington did not swing into line until almost dark and it was after 6 p.m. when they finally completed the route of march.

Allied Chiefs Attend Mass at Home of Bishop
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
KANSAS CITY, Nov. 1.—The military chieftains of France, Italy and Belgium, paused today in the midst of their activities in connection with the American Legion's national convention to pay homage to the man of Calvary.

Marshal Foch, Gen. Diaz and Baron Jacques today cast aside military dignity and in the small private chapel at the residence of Bishop Thomas Lillis celebrated an early morning mass.

During the consecration of the most solemn part of the religious ceremony, the gray-headed marshal of France bowed low as he murmured:

"Lord, I am not worthy."
Following the mass, Bishop Lillis addressed Marshal Foch:

"You are the hero of the world. Thousands will pay you tribute today, but amid it all you have paused long enough to worship God."

"During the World War you stood out as the savior of civilization. But with all you were a true son of the church."

NO SORE SPOTS IN CALIFORNIA OUTFIT.
LEGIONNAIRES FROM COAST DECLARE THEY WILL FIGHT FOR 1922 CONVENTION.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
KANSAS CITY, Nov. 1.—John R. Quinn, head of the American Legion in California, who led a clean but unsuccessful fight on the floor of the convention for the 1922 convention for San Francisco today, said there were no sore spots in the California delegation, 1922 isn't so far away, he continued, and the Bay City will make another fight for it.

Anton Sapiro of San Francisco presented the good points of the California city to the convention, and was given an ovation at its finish.

Several good resolutions were presented by California and adopted by the convention.

Quinn said the California delegation was for anything that would benefit the Pacific Coast.

Among leaders in the fight for the convention were Ed Raney, secretary of the Mayor of San Francisco, and George Hatfield, the original point of order man.

Only a short session of the Legion convention was held today, during which the delegates attending the dedication of Kansas City's $2,000,000 memorial to her dead soldiers.

FOCH TALKS TO VETERANS.

Legionnaires a personal declaration of comradeship, and from his government bore the official greetings of France.

Just the appearance of the marshal was enough to throw the huge hall into a frenzy of applause and acclaim, and Gen. Pershing was given an equal ovation by the former soldiers who served under him.

Gen. Pershing announced that the War Department had awarded the Distinguished Service Medal, posthumously, to the late Col. Frederick W. Gilbreath, Jr., commander of the American Legion, at the time of his death, last spring.

Gen. Pershing led the convention in three cheers for the marshal of France, the chief of the Legion, and the chief of the city's sons, who fell during the war.

A number of the greatest assemblages in the history of the country paid homage to America's war dead here today at the dedication of Kansas City's liberty memorial, being built in honor of the city's sons, who fell during the war.

Legion members, visitors, citizens distinguished war leaders from Allied countries, and high ranking officers of the United States Army and Navy, including Gen. Pershing, joined in the dedication.

The memorial is a great column to be reared on the site of a hill on the Union Station Plaza, atop which will burn a perpetual fire "a pillar of cloud by day and by night a pillar of fire."

While the memorial was being dedicated, Kansas City sent to President Warren G. Harding at Washington and to the nation as a whole, a message of peace. The message, prepared by R. A. Long, president of the Liberty Memorial Association, in the name of Kansas City, will be carried by a dove, the emblem of peace and good will. The message said:

"Greetings, Mr. President, greetings of peace and good will from Kansas City."
"We are all assembled in one place and with one accord, consecrating memorial hill to the glory of God and the honor of those who won the World War. Foch, the Marshal of France, and conqueror of Germany is here; Diaz, the defender of Italy, is here; Jacques, the defender of Belgium, is here; Pershing, the American (God keep him) is here; 80,000 Legionnaires, mighty men of valor, are here; fathers and mothers of the glorious fallen are here; wounded and groping heroes are here; the mighty souls of the multitudinous dead are here; the quickened spirit of liberty is here—all in one accord—peace."

In the coming peace council may our glorious country win more glory by leading the war-weary nations of the earth out of the wilderness of discord and dismay into the Canaan of peace and prosperity."

During most of his long service in the House, Mr. Hull was a member of the Ways and Means Committee. He wrote the income tax law.

NEW YORK VIEW.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—An annual conference of national and State leaders of the party, designed to clarify and place before the public the party's position on issues of the day, is being urged upon the Democratic National Committee by Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic Vice-Presidential candidate in 1920.

In a letter to the committee, Mr. Roosevelt said he did not think it sufficient to obtain expressions of the political beliefs of the entire party every four years. He suggested that this should be done at least every year.

A party, he declared, "can have no clear definite program behind which its members can stand unitedly and wholeheartedly, unless its leaders are possessed of machinery by which they can keep in close touch with the sentiment of the party members throughout the entire country."

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
TOMBSTONE (Ariz.) Nov. 1.—Bonding companies have paid into the county treasury $97,661.03 on account of county moneys on deposit with the First National Bank at Tombstone at the time of its closing.

Proffer has been made also of $10,000 of surety company money covering a bond of W. W. Walker, assistant treasurer, who confessed defalcation of $35,000. The balance of this sum will be from the bond of Treasurer Welch. On this account suit has been started to recover from several bonding companies.

CHINA DEFAULTS ON DEBT OF $3,500,000 MATURING YESTERDAY.
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—China, with recent record for always paying her debts, today defaulted $3,500,000 of notes which matured November 1, according to a cablegram received by the Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings Bank. The news was at once forwarded to the State Department at Washington.

Secretary Hughes' immediate answer to the bank's officials indicated that the United States government will use every effort to protect investments of its citizens in foreign government loans floated in this country, and that he will co-operate in every possible way in securing repayment from the Chinese government.

This loan which matured yesterday, was made in 1919, primarily to raise a previous loan of $5,000,000 made in 1916. Both loans were floated by the Chicago bank and constituted the first financing of the American loan.

Another loan to China, also for $5,000,000, was made by the Pacific Development Company and falls due December 1.

"BUFFALO BILLS" WIFE BURIED.
Noted Scout and Wife Now Lie Together in Their Last Sleep.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
DENVER, Nov. 1.—The body of Mrs. William F. Cody lies tonight in the grave with her husband, "Buffalo Bill," famous scout and Indian fighter, at the foot of Lookout Mountain, near Golden, Colo. More than 100 persons attended the brief Episcopal ceremony at the mountain top overlooking the plains of Colorado. In carrying out the wish of the widow to be buried with her husband, it was necessary to place her casket directly over that of her husband in a crypt blasted from the solid mountain rock.

NEW YORK MILKLESS BY STRIKE.
Near Famine When 18,000 Drivers Make Demand for More Pay.
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The "milk strike" tonight brought near famine conditions. Hospitals, homes and restaurants were not supplied today due to the strike of about 18,000 wagon drivers who demand a raise of $5 a week in pay and larger percentages of collections.

City officials are making an investigation of charges and counter-charges, particularly the report that the strike was engineered by large distributing companies so that enormous supplies of powdered, condensed and evaporated milk could be disposed of.

Officials of the companies tonight charge the strike is "murderous" and that the "radical element" in the ranks of the I. W. W. type caused the trouble.

Hundreds of thousands of women and children were forced to call in the rain at the big distribution depots of the milk companies to purchase their supplies.

Violence broke out shortly after the strike went into effect. Clashes occurred between women and children in the milk lines, and striking pickets. Several loyal drivers were beaten and thousands of dollars' worth of milk destroyed. One man was fined for beating one of the loyal men.

PROHIBITION CLAUSE DENIED AUTO DEALERS.
ARIZONA COMMISSION RULES AGAINST INSERTION IN INSURANCE POLICIES.
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
PHOENIX, Nov. 1.—The State Corporation Commission has denied the application of the local automobile dealers for revocation of a commission order forbidding insertion in auto insurance policies of a clause covering loss of the machine through operation of the Prohibition Act. The dealers claimed that most of the cars are sold on time and that the clause is necessary for their own protection in the case of confiscation under either the national or state laws.

TURK NATIONALISTS TO ASK LOAN HERE.
(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 1.—The assembly of the Turkish Nationalist government at Ankara has decided to send missions to the United States, Great Britain, France and Italy to explain the Nationalist aims and peace conditions, says an Ankara dispatch.

The mission to the United States, the Ankara states, will make an appeal to raise a loan guaranteed by economic privileges.

BOOM EXPECTED FROM LIFTING OF BAN ON LIQUOR.
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
NOGALES (Ariz.) Nov. 1.—On the other side of the international line there appears to be general approval of the action of the State government in repealing the prohibition statute under which the State has been operating for months. The border ports now expect a tremendous revival of business and are preparing to keep open house for Americans in quest of stimulants and certain classes of entertainment.

Behind this, however, the action of the Congress at Hermosillo appears to have been dictated by a feeling that the State was powerless to enforce prohibition and that the government was losing revenue and at the same time discouraging citizens. Scores of special agents were employed in an attempted enforcement of the law, but it is told that at many points their arrival met merely an added tax on the illicit traffic, which was opened up again immediately upon their departure.

There also was complaint that megal and other beverages dispensed were of the most villainous character, their use seriously threatening the very life of those who imbibed. The mountain stills operated throughout the prohibition period sold their wares unimpeded. It is appreciated that unchecked liquor seriously will affect prohibition enforcement north of the line, but in that phase of the matter the Mexicans express little concern.

WHITE DITCHED BY DEMOCRATS.
Party Has Rather Hard Time Naming Successor.
Former Congressman Hull of Tennessee Chosen.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 1.—The Democratic party today chose former Congressman Cordell Hull of Tennessee, as chairman of its national committee to succeed George H. White of Marietta, O., who retired to party ranks.

The change in leadership, which had been hoped for by Mr. White since July, 1920, when he assumed the chairmanship at the call of former Gov. Cox of Ohio, the party's nominee for President, was assured early today, when, after conferences lasting a half hour, the delegates announced that all elements of the party had agreed on either Breckinridge Long, former assistant Secretary of State, or Hull. Long's ultimate selection was contingent, however, upon the resignation of Edward Cox of Ohio, a committee man from Missouri.

GOLTRA WON'T QUIT.
Goltra said he would not resign in Long's favor. Hull then was announced as the agreed candidate.

White, on his arrival yesterday, announced that he would not resign, regardless of the opposition to him, unless a man could be found on whom all could agree. A conference finally was arranged for midnight when it was understood the White opposition, led by Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, displayed a minimum of sixty-six votes, out of a total of less than 100 votes expected to be present.

Long and his compromise candidates are understood to have been put forward by the opponents of White and were declared acceptable by Senator Harrison of Mississippi and his two colleagues on the committee as Chairman White's representatives.

HAPPY SELECTION.
White announced that the selection was a very happy one, as it was a man who had been closely allied with any candidate at San Francisco convention.

Reports that Daniel C. Roper, former ambassador to the Dominican Republic, is to be made chairman of the national executive committee in accordance with the compromise agreement on the chairmanship could not be confirmed tonight.

Hull's name was presented to the committee by Senator Harrison, following the agreed plan. Senator Harrison seconded Hull's nomination, and a quick vote was given.

Hull thanked the committee, "Long and his compromise candidates, called for a united democracy, and called for future success for the party and flayed the Republican administration."

Hull said he wanted to decentralize authority by throwing greater responsibility upon the state and local committees. He recommended close co-operation between national, state and local committees.

He urged that women be more completely represented on local committees.

He declared that the "reactionary group of the Republican party executed a new mortgage on it last year, and when that mortgage was paid, it had no vestige of policy—no program except to carry out the wishes of the privileged group which financed its campaign."

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
CHATTANOOGA (Tenn.) Nov. 1. Judge Hull is a native of Warren county, Tennessee, and attended Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tenn. He spent his early life as a farmer and lumber dealer. His first public service was as a member of the Tennessee Legislature. Later he was judge of the Fifth Tennessee Judicial District and served several terms in Congress. He served in the Spanish-American War as captain. He is 58 years old.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.
Selection of Judge Hull as chairman of the Democratic National Committee was warmly approved today by Democrats in Congress, especially by members of the House, in which he served fourteen years.

House Democrats called a conference for tomorrow at which resolutions will be adopted commending the action of the committee and congratulating Mr. Hull.

During most of his long service in the House, Mr. Hull was a member of the Ways and Means Committee. He wrote the income tax law.

NEW YORK VIEW.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—An annual conference of national and State leaders of the party, designed to clarify and place before the public the party's position on issues of the day, is being urged upon the Democratic National Committee by Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic Vice-Presidential candidate in 1920.

In a letter to the committee, Mr. Roosevelt said he did not think it sufficient to obtain expressions of the political beliefs of the entire party every four years. He suggested that this should be done at least every year.

A party, he declared, "can have no clear definite program behind which its members can stand unitedly and wholeheartedly, unless its leaders are possessed of machinery by which they can keep in close touch with the sentiment of the party members throughout the entire country."

BONDING COMPANIES GIVE COUNTY BIG SUM.
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
TOMBSTONE (Ariz.) Nov. 1.—Bonding companies have paid into the county treasury $97,661.03 on account of county moneys on deposit with the First National Bank at Tombstone at the time of its closing.

Proffer has been made also of $10,000 of surety company money covering a bond of W. W. Walker, assistant treasurer, who confessed defalcation of $35,000. The balance of this sum will be from the bond of Treasurer Welch. On this account suit has been started to recover from several bonding companies.

CHINA DEFAULTS ON DEBT OF $3,500,000 MATURING YESTERDAY.
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—China, with recent record for always paying her debts, today defaulted $3,500,000 of notes which matured November 1, according to a cablegram received by the Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings Bank. The news was at once forwarded to the State Department at Washington.

Secretary Hughes' immediate answer to the bank's officials indicated that the United States government will use every effort to protect investments of its citizens in foreign government loans floated in this country, and that he will co-operate in every possible way in securing repayment from the Chinese government.

This loan which matured yesterday, was made in 1919, primarily to raise a previous loan of $5,000,000 made in 1916. Both loans were floated by the Chicago bank and constituted the first financing of the American loan.

Another loan to China, also for $5,000,000, was made by the Pacific Development Company and falls due December 1.

"BUFFALO BILLS" WIFE BURIED.
Noted Scout and Wife Now Lie Together in Their Last Sleep.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
DENVER, Nov. 1.—The body of Mrs. William F. Cody lies tonight in the grave with her husband, "Buffalo Bill," famous scout and Indian fighter, at the foot of Lookout Mountain, near Golden, Colo. More than 100 persons attended the brief Episcopal ceremony at the mountain top overlooking the plains of Colorado. In carrying out the wish of the widow to be buried with her husband, it was necessary to place her casket directly over that of her husband in a crypt blasted from the solid mountain rock.

NEW YORK MILKLESS BY STRIKE.
Near Famine When 18,000 Drivers Make Demand for More Pay.
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The "milk strike" tonight brought near famine conditions. Hospitals, homes and restaurants were not supplied today due to the strike of about 18,000 wagon drivers who demand a raise of $5 a week in pay and larger percentages of collections.

City officials are making an investigation of charges and counter-charges, particularly the report that the strike was engineered by large distributing companies so that enormous supplies of powdered, condensed and evaporated milk could be disposed of.

Officials of the companies tonight charge the strike is "murderous" and that the "radical element" in the ranks of the I. W. W. type caused the trouble.

Hundreds of thousands of women and children were forced to call in the rain at the big distribution depots of the milk companies to purchase their supplies.

Violence broke out shortly after the strike went into effect. Clashes occurred between women and children in the milk lines, and striking pickets. Several loyal drivers were beaten and thousands of dollars' worth of milk destroyed. One man was fined for beating one of the loyal men.

PROHIBITION CLAUSE DENIED AUTO DEALERS.
ARIZONA COMMISSION RULES AGAINST INSERTION IN INSURANCE POLICIES.
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
PHOENIX, Nov. 1.—The State Corporation Commission has denied the application of the local automobile dealers for revocation of a commission order forbidding insertion in auto insurance policies of a clause covering loss of the machine through operation of the Prohibition Act. The dealers claimed that most of the cars are sold on time and that the clause is necessary for their own protection in the case of confiscation under either the national or state laws.

TURK NATIONALISTS TO ASK LOAN HERE.
(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 1.—The assembly of the Turkish Nationalist government at Ankara has decided to send missions to the United States, Great Britain, France and Italy to explain the Nationalist aims and peace conditions, says an Ankara dispatch.

The mission to the United States, the Ankara states, will make an appeal to raise a loan guaranteed by economic privileges.

BOOM EXPECTED FROM LIFTING OF BAN ON LIQUOR.
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
NOGALES (Ariz.) Nov. 1.—On the other side of the international line there appears to be general approval of the action of the State government in repealing the prohibition statute under which the State has been operating for months. The border ports now expect a tremendous revival of business and are preparing to keep open house for Americans in quest of stimulants and certain classes of entertainment.

Behind this, however, the action of the Congress at Hermosillo appears to have been dictated by a feeling that the State was powerless to enforce prohibition and that the government was losing revenue and at the same time discouraging citizens. Scores of special agents were employed in an attempted enforcement of the law, but it is told that at many points their arrival met merely an added tax on the illicit traffic, which was opened up again immediately upon their departure.

There also was complaint that megal and other beverages dispensed were of the most villainous character, their use seriously threatening the very life of those who imbibed. The mountain stills operated throughout the prohibition period sold their wares unimpeded. It is appreciated that unchecked liquor seriously will affect prohibition enforcement north of the line, but in that phase of the matter the Mexicans express little concern.

WHITE DITCHED BY DEMOCRATS.
Party Has Rather Hard Time Naming Successor.
Former Congressman Hull of Tennessee Chosen.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 1.—The Democratic party today chose former Congressman Cordell Hull of Tennessee, as chairman of its national committee to succeed George H. White of Marietta, O., who retired to party ranks.

The change in leadership, which had been hoped for by Mr. White since July, 1920, when he assumed the chairmanship at the call of former Gov. Cox of Ohio, the party's nominee for President, was assured early today, when, after conferences lasting a half hour, the delegates announced that all elements of the party had agreed on either Breckinridge Long, former assistant Secretary of State, or Hull. Long's ultimate selection was contingent, however, upon the resignation of Edward Cox of Ohio, a committee man from Missouri.

GOLTRA WON'T QUIT.
Goltra said he would not resign in Long's favor. Hull then was announced as the agreed candidate.

White, on his arrival yesterday, announced that he would not resign, regardless of the opposition to him, unless a man could be found on whom all could agree. A conference finally was arranged for midnight when it was understood the White opposition, led by Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, displayed a minimum of sixty-six votes, out of a total of less than 100 votes expected to be present.

Long and his compromise candidates are understood to have been put forward by the opponents of White and were declared acceptable by Senator Harrison of Mississippi and his two colleagues on the committee as Chairman White's representatives.

HAPPY SELECTION.
White announced that the selection was a very happy one, as it was a man who had been closely allied with any candidate at San Francisco convention.

CALLS "BIG TIM" SEE END OF OIL FIELD WALKOUT

Federal Attorney Says He's Criminal Gang Brains.

Chicago Politician Charged With Mail Robbery.

Amazing Story of Cloaked Lawlessness Outlined.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—After an opening statement which pictured "Big Tim" Murphy as the brains of the $350,000 Dearborn mail hold-up, Asst. U. S. Dist. Atty. Northrup called the first witness for the government in the trial of the politician-leader and his alleged accomplices. The three on trial with the alleged leader are Vincent Comano, Paul Rolanti and Edward Geirun. The witness was Henry C. Holland, a registry clerk. He laid the ground-work for the State's case by identifying the Liberty Bonds the State will try to trace to "Big Tim" as those which were taken in the robbery. He was followed by Earl W. Allen, buying teller of the Federal Reserve Bank, who explained the system by which the bank checks Liberty Bonds as they are taken in. The taking of testimony followed a hot fight on the part of attorney for the defense to exclude detailed mention of the confession made by Edward Geirun, chauffeur of the hold-up car. Judge Landis permitted Mr. Northrup to tell of it. A new disclosure was made by Mr. Northrup in his opening statement. It was that "Big Tim" had been in Indianapolis organizing a chain of "co-operative labor stores" at the time he is alleged to have planned the hold-up. The case against "Big Tim" as outlined by Mr. Northrup was an amazing story of criminality hidden beneath the cloak of legitimate business. "Big Tim," the government charges, was not content with planning a huge mail robbery while ostensibly on a business mission. He also enlisted the aid of his business associate, not to mention a mail clerk, with an untainted record. "I will show you," said Mr. Northrup, in outlining his case, that "Big Tim" Murphy was the entire brains of the Dearborn station mail robbery. He planned the job. He corrupted honest men to serve his purpose. He furnished the finances, the information, the plans and everything else necessary, remaining in the background only when actual danger appeared. "The government will prove that 'Big Tim' is one of the most dangerous and cunning criminals that has ever been tried in Cook county. It asks that he and his accomplices be convicted and sent to the penitentiary where they belong. "Big Tim" maintained his usual appearance of dapper and humorous ease during Mr. Northrup's arraignment of him. Several times when the Assistant United States Attorney became particularly vehement the prisoner raised a hand to his face and whispered smilingly to his attorney.

AMERICA'S READY FOR CONFERENCE

Some frank advice to pacifists who are demanding complete disarmament was offered by Dr. Henry Van Dyke at the convocation of the National Reform Association. "It is not the question of absolute disarmament," said Dr. Van Dyke, "that must wait for the millennium. The pacifists are sometimes quarrelsome and Henry Ford himself is death on the Jews. In a world where there are wild beasts and violent men some arms are necessary. But every civilized nation restricts their position just enough to prevent violence. Why cannot the civilized world do the same wise thing? "Competitive armaments are based on the mad theory that mankind is a beast only to be ruled by fear. They do not prevent war, they promote it. Let us begin with a 'naval holiday' and then go on as far as we can. If that leads us to a compact or resolution with other nations to protect peace, so much the better. It will stop the sowing of dragon's teeth and prepare the world for a better harvest.

MRS. EDSON ACTIVE. Mrs. Katherine Phillips Edson, well known in women's club circles of Los Angeles, prominent member of the Friday Morning Club, whose ranks she distinguished herself for her fearless leadership during the woman's suffrage campaign of 1911, yesterday was named President Harding to be a member of the advisory committee to the Disarmament Conference. Mrs. Edson, whose home is in Los Angeles at 950 West Twentieth street, spends much of her time in San Francisco, where she is executive officer of the California State Industrial Welfare Commission, which adjusts the wages and working conditions of women and minors in industry, a position she has held for six years. Charles Fairwell Edson stated yesterday that he deemed the appointment a high honor for his wife, and, although he had not heard the news, he had little doubt but that she would accept. Mrs. Edson was a visitor in Marion at the home of Mr. Harding during the Presidential campaign. She is a member of the National Republican Committee and a former member of the Republican State Central Committee of California, and the Los Angeles Chapter Revision Commission. She was one of the charter members of the Women's Republican Study Club of this city and an organizer and ardent supporter for the Los Angeles county branch of the League of Women Voters.

consider the questions from a general point of view, remembering that all peoples have an equal right to develop themselves and to progress. "GUARANTEE OF PEACE." "The Washington conference will help towards the re-establishment of such international relations as will be the real guarantee of peace among nations."

"The Italian delegation goes to Washington with a sincere hope that a complete agreement of details and sentiments with the American delegation will help toward the success of the conference."

Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, Chinese Minister to Great Britain, who heads the Chinese delegation, declared China would do its share toward making the conference a success. "One of its objects," he said, "is peace, and peace is the utmost desire of the Far East."

"Stabilization of China and recognition of her rights and liberties must be obtained," he added, "and we appreciate the importance of the outcome of this conference."

Other delegates voting confidence in the outcome of the conference were Count Constantino of Italy, the Rt. Hon. V. D. Srinivasa-Sastri of India, member of the British delegation, and Gen. Otake, military expert to the Japanese delegation.

"We welcome with all our hearts any steps which may be taken toward a reduction of armaments," Sastri said. "Our own taxes, as a result of the burdens of war, have become intolerable, and our government is faced with a heavy deficit and greatly restricted national resources."

The delegations were met by representatives of the State Department and officers of the Army and Navy. Lord Lee, who is a native of New York.

THIEVES ROB HOME OF COL. A. R. KUSER.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) BERNARDSVILLE (N. J.) Nov. 1.—Expert thieves entered two suites in the residence of Col. Anthony R. Kuser, vice-president of the Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, here early today and obtained jewelry valued at $20,000.

Severe headaches experienced by five members of the family, including Col. Kuser, gave rise to the suspicion that the burglars administered chloroform before setting to work.

In the great residential building, in addition to the members of the Kuser family and a guest, were a watchman, two butlers and eight women, none of whom report having heard a sound during the night.

Thus, to secure an accompanying instrument that would meet the high standing of his own playing, Heifetz unhesitatingly chose the Steinway.

IR IS SURCHARGED WITH FOOTBALL MURMURINGS.

Expert Says That Sensible and Sane
Analysis of Trojans' Chances
Should be Given Public.

BY WILLIAM M. HENRY.

/President Harding doubtless had an idea that the people of California would be interested in the doings of the Disarmament
Conference so he scheduled it for next week when, with the Trojan-Bruin brawl out of the way, Californians would have time to pay some attention to it.

It is doubtful indeed if any football game, not barring even the historic New Year's Day combats at Pasadena, has aroused the interest being shown in next Saturday's struggle between the undefeated teams representing the northern and southern divisions of the State. The coming tussle is a topic of frenzied debate and angry mouthings wherever pigskin followers congregate, and difficult it is to get any kind of a calm and judicial opinion on the relative merits of the teams.

In the entire history of modern football in California, rugby days
excluded, the Berkeley Bear has tasted defeat just twice at the hands of an eleven from below the Teha-chapi. That was in 1915 when U.
S. C. won 28 to 10 and in 1916 when the wonderful Occidental eleven triumphed on the Berkeley gridiron by the score of 14 to 13. Once before, one of Whittier's sensational teams had fought the Bears to a standstill, 31 to 27. Henderson's
U. S. C. eleven of two years ago was beaten by the margin of a single point. So much for history.

Armistice in Central League Today to Settle Disputes Over Gridiron.

FEUD IN PREP GRID CIRCLES.

Central League Seethes With Disagreements.

But Monrovia Leads the Field Unmolested.

South Pasadena is a Strong Contender for Title.

BY CHARLES WEST.

All is turmoil in the Central League. Not only is the scrap for the high school pigskin pudding being conducted enthusiastically on the gridiron, but a lively warfare is being waged by the coaches of the various prep institutions. It seems that South Pasadena and Citrus Union have been accused of using ineligible athletes in trouncing some of their neighbors on the tankard, and the neighbors are pained and grieved. However, a truce has been arranged for this afternoon, and it is expected that everything will turn out nicely.

"Duck" Urmaton, South Pasadena's left tackle, had a scholastic ginkling spell a short time ago, during which period the Tigers maulled Glendale around unmercifully by a 10-to-0 score. Glendale claims that South Pasadena should forfeit the game for playing an ineligible man, but Coach Winners declares that the contest should be played over again. The result would probably be the same, as Urmaton has completely recovered.

MORE TROUBLE.
A similar situation has popped up in Azusa. Fullback Hall, the mainstay of the Citrus Union eleven, figured prominently in a defeat the INDIANS PREPARE FOR REDLANDS.

The Sherman Indians have arranged for a game with the University of Redlands football eleven at Riverside on November 12 and are planning to give the Bulldogs a merry reception.

The Indians are coached by Benja Pierce, a former All-American tackle and who played with Sherman against the Carlisle Indians in the famous 6-6 game at old Praeger Park a matter of some eighteen years or so ago. With Pierce at the helm the boys at Sherman promise to turn out a team next year that will rival those of the good old days of Neafus, Boles, Williams, et al.

Orange Growers handed Franklin a short time ago, but has since been declared ineligible. Whether or not these teams will collide again to settle the matter will be decided this afternoon.

At present Monrovia High is ahead in the race for the Central League title with an unblemished record, having smothered South Pasadena, Citrus Union, and Covina without favor. Coach Feeler has rosy visions of the championship, but Alhambra will attempt to pry that they are only spots before the eyes when the Monrovia invade Alhambra Friday.

Feeler is loud in his praise of the Monrovia forwards, declaring that it was these scrappy linemen that put his team out in front. Capt. Bender, holding down the left tackle job, and Center Gilmore are Feeler's pride and joy, while the backfield, composed of the shav brothers, Bronson, and Coffin, has great possibilities. Ed Shaw is the feature of the team's half-carrying section. He captured the honors in the 440 at the Southern California prep meet last season, and his speed stands him in good stead on the gridiron.

Monrovia's biggest obstacle in the path for the title is Coach Winners' squad down in South Pasadena. Although they handed the Tigers their only defeat of the season, the Monrovia will have to win every game on their schedule to clinch the pennant. The Bengal bunch hit its stride after the initial contest, and is mowing down all comers. Unless disqualified, South Pasadena is due Realtors Are Joining Golf Club in Force.

Really dealers are joining the new Western Avenue Golf Club in force.

With H. H. Cotton, one of the city's biggest operators, and Harold D. Benton, a well-known builder, among its organizers, interest in the club was aroused at once among realtors, particularly among those with interests in the Southwest. Development of that section will of course be aided tremendously by formation of the club and construction of a clubhouse and golf course.

Among the first to join was Frank N. Gaines, president of the Southwest Development Association, closely followed by F. H. Dolan, who is marketing Vermont Heights but a few blocks from the club's property at Manchester and Western avenues. J. E. Barnett and W. D. Cochran, also operators in that section, signed up a little later. Carlin G. Smith, who Sunday opened up a 160-acre tract just east of the club property, put his name on the roster, of course. Among other dealers who have joined are: L. W. Coffey, George I. Hughes, O. P. Lockhart, Hugh W. Lockhart, E. E. Moore, S. C. Freeman and Wesley I. Stanley.

STATE SCHOOL DOWNS LONG BEACH MIDGETS.

Whittier State School's 116-pound eleven triumphed over Long Beach High's midgets yesterday afternoon on the former's gridiron, 6 to 3. The State School lads scored on line backs and short end runs. Bryant carried the ball across. Long Beach' tally came as the result of a field goal.

This victory puts the State School lightweight in second place in the race for the Southern California title.

FOOTBALL TALK FILLS THE AIR.

They can't hit him with the shrapnel.

First—U. S. C.'s margin over Occidental and Pomona has a small degree been due to superiority in numbers. U. S. C. has more than ten times as many students as either Occidental or Pomona. Were U. S. C. compelled to limit the number of participants in a game to the same number used by the smaller schools, the difference in the score would be very noticeable. Against both Occidental and Pomona, half of the Trojan score was the direct result of Henderson's ability to keep throwing in fresh backfield stars one after the other, wearing down the opposition by sheer force of numbers so that in the final few minutes of the game the fresh Trojan ran riot over the tired opposition.

NOT AN ALIBI.

U. S. C. made three touchdowns in the last twenty minutes of the Occidental game and made three touchdowns in the last fifteen minutes of the Pomona game. This is not an alibi for Occidental or Pomona, it is a fact that apparently the Trojan front has been willing to face. Those who point to U. S. C. as a "first quarter and last quarter" team overlook the fact that the first quarter scores are to some extent due to the fact that the small college teams are always flabbergasted by the first few minutes of the last quarter scores are to some extent due to the overwhelming number of good substitutes on the Trojan squad.

Here's the point—California will be flabbergasted in the first period next time out in the last period. For the first time this year U. S. C. will be facing a team equally confident and equally well supplied with good substitutes. The advantage of confidence and surplus material that the Trojans have had in every game this year will not be theirs against California. For the first time the score will rest on the respective merits of the two teams.

CRACKED BADLY.

Second—U. S. C., so far, has been on the defensive just once, and on that occasion she cracked badly. Pomona, putting her in a touchdown in nifty style. Throughout the entire season, the Trojan eleven, thanks to psychology and wonderful backs, has had the other fellow in a hole all the time. Occidental never once had the ball in her possession in Trojan territory. Pomona attacked several times on their own 10-yard line, they were forced by their position to punt or else try something desperate. The same thing goes for Pomona.

Only once so far has U. S. C. had to face a determined attack in her own territory. Against California she'll be forced to face such an attack a dozen times. This will be a new experience and as good a coach as Elmer Henderson doubtless wishes that his team had had tough opposition to date. Archie Nibbet's mighty boot will average a good 19 yards behind the line. Leadingham's, for Archie can do that much better than any punter on the Coast.

LINE NOT THERE.

The truth of the matter is that the Trojan line isn't up to the standard of the Trojan backfield. Both Occidental and Pomona looked better than U. S. C. from end to end. In the Occidental game the outstanding linemen of the day were Walt Long, Ray Jones, Jean C. Rap Powers and Carl Renius of Occidental and Andy Toolen of U. S. C. the Pomona line had tough going linemen were Denebrink, Baker, Dyer, Houghton of Pomona and Calland and Smith of U. S. C.

In both games the Trojan linemen were pushed and shoved all over the place by their opponents. They showed them, making the offense and used them for soft seats on the defense. But thanks to the simply marvelous superiority of the Trojan backfield the comparative weakness of the Trojan line passed unnoticed by the throng.

Johnny Boyle will help a lot, but Boyle is just one good man against seven on the California line. The Cardinal and Gold squad is going up against a tougher proposition than it has faced this year when it tackles the Bears on Saturday. Because of the first time it will face a backfield just as good as its own and a line its superior. Just how the Trojans will act under such conditions nobody can tell, but the fact that they haven't previously faced such tough opposition will greatly handicap them.

WEAK BY COMPARISON.

Henderson's team is extremely well trained, in perfect shape and has all the confidence inspired by two years of unbroken success. The line is not weak in itself, but is weak by comparison with the wonderful backfield.

Where the Trojan shine is back of the line. Charley Dean has developed into one of the greatest backs that ever shone in a gridiron in this State or any other, his only weakness being a tendency to fumble. The big Trojan hits the line like a runaway switch engine and is unbelievably shifty for a man of his height. It takes about three men hitting him at the same time to bring him down and he is so fast and sturdy that he seems almost impossible to stop.

California has a whole herd of wonderful backs in Erb, Toomey, Nibbet, Nichols, Morrison, Van Sant, Hall and others. But it takes a brave man to say that they are a better lot than Dean, Leadingham, Lockett, Galloway, Thurman, Hunter, Dolly, Leahy, Woodward and Kincaid.

The above, in brief, is one man's idea of the situation. The Trojans are a wonderful eleven, individually and collectively, they are well trained, well conditioned, confident and capable of giving any team in the country an interesting afternoon. If they have a weakness it lies in their line and in the fact that so far they have had no stiff opposition.

THEY MAY WIN.

Let no one think that they are beaten before they start, or that they will be overwhelmed. Not much. It is not at all improbable that they may win. Last year at Pasadena we had a California veteran eleven victorious after the toughest series of battles any team ever went through. Facing Andy Smith's Bears, a team of unquestioned power that had waited through all opposition just as U. S. C. has run wild over all competition this season.

Ohio State was the known quantity, a splendid gridiron team. California was the untried quantity that had yet to show what it could do against tough opposition.

AUTO THIEVES MAKE BIG HAUL.

Twenty-seven automobiles were reported stolen yesterday.

They follow: Ford, 1917 touring, 422-290; Ford, 1931 touring, 499-552; Hudson, 1921 limousine, 376-008; Buick, 1917 touring, blue-black, 622-509; Oakland, 1916 touring, 222-583; Ford, 1916 touring, 506-095; Velle, 1920 touring, 242-488; Studebaker, 1916 touring, engine number 30777; Cadillac, 1919 touring, gray, engine number 672; Chevrolet, 1920 touring, green, 277-084; Ford, 1921 touring, 563-243; Chevrolet, 1919 touring, 227-510; Buick, 1917 roadster, blue, 465-781; Buick, 1920 touring, green, 218-477; Oakland, 1920 touring, green, 102-901; Oakland, 1920 touring, 71-380; Haynes, 1918 touring, 672-049; Ford, 1917 delivery, 187-445; Ford, 1920 touring, 571-995; Ford, 1920 touring, 145-612; Ford, 1919 touring, 205-059; Dort, 1913 roadster, blue, 825-251; Ford, 1918 truck, 463-373; Buick, 1920 touring, 218-477; Buick, 1916 coupe, blue-black, 600-124; Peerless, 1917 touring, blue, engine number N 170406.

Anyone seeing any of the above automobiles is requested to notify the theft bureau of the Auto Club of Southern California, or police headquarters.

Next Saturday the positions will be reversed, California representing the team of tried and tested mettle, U. S. C. the untasted eleven of mighty possibilities.

The wise picker will place his faith, and properly so, with California, the team of known ability. He expects to win, and on hope he ought to, by a couple of three touchdowns. And he's liable to be every bit as wrong as he was at Pasadena. We'll know on Saturday night.

GLOOMY RAGS HIS LINEMEN.

this year, Pat Clark taking Court Major's place at guard, if Pomona's line can hurry Leadingham it is very probable that the Bear line will do more; block his kicks and perhaps, recover them, making every bit as wrong as he was at Pasadena. We'll know on Saturday night.

Local boxing organizations have been known to put on a card containing a double main event, once in a great while the preliminary card has been split by having a third main event sandwiched between, but it took Frank Crowley, matchmaker of the Hollywood American Legion, to arrange a card containing nothing else but main events.

The all-star program is set for next Friday night, with every bout on the bill having as principals boxers who always wind up a card. On top of this, an announced that there would be no change in price, but that the card is being put on to attract a capacity house and then the ex-soldiers will go on with their building.

REDLANDS' ANTLERED NINE LOOKS GOOD.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

REDLANDS, Nov. 1.—The rejuvenated and rebuilt Redlands Elks' baseball team promises to make a most appreciable showing from the local viewpoint in the Citrus Belt Winter League schedule. The team won its first game in the league by walloping the Santa Fe Reds by a score of 7 to 4 and this is a right difficult thing to do.

Manager Rice of the Redlands team has two good pitchers for his aggregation. Speak is a left-hander and Art Cram, former university star, is a right-hander. Cram, a heavy hitter, is doing the work behind the bat.

Rice plans to keep adding to his string of pitchers until he has three or four. And he will also have some more utility men soon. The team meets Pomona next Sunday and that will be the toughest game of the schedule, it is said.

OATMAN TO CAPTAIN ICE HOCKEY TEAM.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WORK.)

VICTORIA, (B. C.) Nov. 1.—Ed Oatman, star ice hockey player, will captain the Victoria Aristocrats in this year's Pacific Coast Hockey Association race. It was announced recently. Oatman has piloted Victoria for the last three years.

Lester Patrick, manager of the Aristocrats, is angling for several new players, with which he hopes to capture the title this year. Frank Frederickson, who was one of Victoria's best players last year, will remain with the club. "Slim" Halderman and Mike Goodman, Canadian speed skate champion, may be obtained.

The other clubs of the association, Seattle and Vancouver, are going ahead with plans for the season, which opens in December.

GRID PLANS TO BE MARKED ON BOARD.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WORK.)

STANFORD UNIVERSITY (Cal.) Nov. 1.—Plays in football games in the new Stanford Stadium will be recorded on a huge scoreboard, probably the largest of its kind in the West.

The big board will be forty-five feet long, twenty-four feet high and will require seven men to operate it. Every play, the number of the player making it, the total score, the yardage gained or lost and the penalties will be shown.

The first game to be played in the stadium will be the annual clash between Stanford and the University of California, November 19.

HISTORY OF THE RED MAN SERIES

THE ORIGIN OF THE STARS

BY "INDIAN" MILLER

The coyote is unhappy. Though he sees the whole world he is unhappy. His trails take him through wonderful places; for they are scenic trails. No living man ever had the good fortune to see the hundredth part of the splendid scenes he has seen. His trail passes among mountains and forests; and along the pleasant streams. He travels so close to the ground that he sees many things the human eye does not observe. The flower is a familiar sight to him. Every locality is a miniature world to him. He watches the ants running, each on its separate errand, and flings them from his feet. He goes close to the ground and detects all the wonderful odors from the flowers and the growing plants.

His feet are good. They carry him where no moccasin could ever go. But Coyote enjoys little of his life; the things he sees mean little to him, for he always has a toothache. It is true, in the old days when the sky was still black, Coyote was happy, though he could see but little at night. One day Old Man sent him on an important errand. He said, "Take this sack to Old Woman; and don't you dare open it." Coyote promised not to open the sack; and he started on the long journey to the home of Old Woman. Finally he began to wonder what was in the sack, but he remembered his promise. Finally he became hungry, and then he wondered if there might be something to eat in it. The temptation became very great. He thought, "I will only look into the sack; that could do no harm."

So he untied the neck of the sack and peeped in. Out popped a little star; and as it fluttered around him like a butterfly he tried to catch it and put it back into the sack. Then, when he dropped the sack to catch that one, all the others came out and fluttered around Coyote in a swarm; and before he could catch any of them they all were flying too high for him to reach.

When Old Man saw the stars in the sky he knew that Coyote had disobeyed him. But Old Man could not catch Coyote, for his feet were too good. So at last Old Man was satisfied to inflict an everlasting toothache on Coyote, so that it became hereditary; and this is the reason that Coyote howls at the stars at night and is afraid of man.

He travels far for his feet are good. Motorists find Savage Cord tires, like Coyote's feet, are good on the long, bad trails. And the cost is low for the service they give, for Savage Tires are Built to Excel, it is true.

Stanford's Gridders May Startle the Football World When They Tackle California.

STANFORD'S CLASS IS SURPRISING.

Game Will Decide Title of the Conference.

Gen's Crew to Invade Washington Saturday.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH.] STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 1.—The elimination of Coach Ruthven's Oregon Aggies from the Pacific Northwest football race is a striking feature of the California game at Stanford. Stanford was able to dispose of the University of Washington next Saturday, the result that the big game November 19 will decide conference title.

Stanford Agricultural College, succeeded to be one of the conference teams of the game down to Palo Alto fully intended to tighten its grip on the title by defeating Stanford and most of the critics were

POWERS MAY PLAY SATURDAY.

"Rap" Powers, captain and center of the Occidental football machine, who was seriously injured in practice several weeks ago, has recovered so speedily that Trainer Pete Foote may allow him to enter the Bengal's skirmish with Caltek Saturday. If Powers plays against the Engineers Oxy's chances to come out on top against Fox Stanton's strong eleven will be decidedly brighter.

Powers tore the ligaments in his knee shortly after the game with U.S.C. and at the same time dislocated the joint. It was thought at the time that his football days were over, but he has been doing some light work this week, and may start Saturday's game.

COBB'S SEALS GET BEATING.

[Continued from First Page.] The class football played by Stanford was a revelation to a lot of people who were overconfident of an Oregon victory. Outside of the Card supporters at "The Farm" Oregon was decidedly the favorite, but the Card warriors, led by such stars as "Schlaudemann," quarterback; Art Wilcox, halfback, and a certain Jack Patrick, captain, upset a host of fine theories and came through with a prize exhibition of football that ranks in the first class.

The development of the Stanford team has not been a matter of blind luck and good fortune. Head Coach Van Gent, with his assistants, Fitzgerald, Tompkins, and Canning, has been working toward a definite goal, and his plan of things is showing results all the time. Van Gent not only has an eye on the big game on November 19, but is also building for next year's team and the knowledge of football the Cards showed is proof he is on the right track.

Stanford's tackling was improved 50 per cent and while the line showed it is still working with new offensive tactics, its playing was doubled in value. On the defense the team put up some great football. The boys showed far greater confidence in themselves when O.A.C. began to spring the Iowa "spread-play" stuff.

HURRY LOT.

Despite the fierceness of Saturday's battle, the Card squad looked to be in a pretty healthy condition this afternoon. Art Wilcox got some pretty rough treatment but his injuries are only of the minor variety. Carter and Campbell are nursing twisted ankles and had wrists but both men should be clear of the hospital registry before next Saturday.

According to present plans the Cards will have two more full days of work before leaving for Seattle late Wednesday to meet the University of Washington on Saturday. About twenty-seven men will make the trip. There will be twenty-two players with coaches and trainers.

The seat sale for the big game is going along quite to the satisfaction of Graduate Manager Fletcher. Mail orders for seats on application blanks that have been sent out will be accepted still, Fletcher said, but will receive preference only as regards the order in which they arrive through the mails. Full preference, however, will still be accorded applications from stadium fund subscribers.

DUSTY FARNUM AFTER TROPHY.

Is Tuning Up New Craft for Nordlinger Race.

His Latest Snorter is Fastest Thing Floating.

L. A. Motorboat Club Classic to be Speedy Affair.

That the 1921 Nordlinger trophy race for speed boats, which is to be held by the Los Angeles Motorboat Club on November 19 and 20, will be the greatest ever staged with probably the largest number of entrants and by far the greatest speed is indicated by the great amount of enthusiasm expressed at the harbor. At present it is thought that with that postponing of the date from next Saturday and Sunday to the 19th and 20th inst., several additional entries will be in. This will take in one or two craft from up north and perhaps Frank A. Garbutt's Mystery VI.

With Billy Lane leading off and Stata following, the top of the Los Angeles battling order is all whizz and speed, but hasn't enough of either of these things to take any liberties with Cobb's arm. Farnum, who is a small bull with more miles per hour inside than there are crooked prohibition officers.

"Dusty," as he is called by his fellow-members at the Los Angeles Motorboat Club, is a commodore of that organization and so far has won the Nordlinger cup two consecutive times. The rules on the trophy call for an owner of a motor boat to have his vessel win the trophy three consecutive years before gaining permanent ownership.

Naturally, Farnum started out this season to get the best motor craft that money could buy, and that means the new single-stop hydroplane type. It is thirty feet in length and has a seven and one-half foot beam.

FORWARD PASS IS PROMINENT.

[Continued from First Page.] Success crowned the efforts of the coaches who stuck to the overhead attack. Therefore it must be good, and it is strange that the coaches never thought of it.

FAMOUS PASS.

The object of the forward pass is to keep the secondary defense from getting too close to the scrimmage line. A wise quarterback will hurl a pass and, when the defensive backs are five or more yards behind the rush line, shoot a play at the line. If this is successful, try another, and when the defense creeps up, toss a forward pass, which will work more than one-half of the time.

Penn State defeated Pittsburg two years ago on one forward pass. It wasn't the only score of the game, but it came when the score was needed and the game veered in State's favor from then on. State had received the kickoff deep in its territory and, after two attempts at rushing the ball, several yards had been lost. The ball was on the 5-yard line and the fullback dropped back in punt formation.

He was standing behind his own goal line and, according to the rules and regulations of the game, to say nothing of the often-mentioned "zone play," the only thing which possibly could be done was to kick. The Pitt players realized this and the line of scrimmage to try to break through and block the kick.

Therefore only one man was back, and he was about 30 yards from the scrimmage line. Instead of kicking, however, the smart quarterback, seeing all of that vacant space between the rush line and the defensive fullback, called for a forward pass. The ball was tossed over the line, Higgins caught it and ran the full length of the field for the first touchdown. That was a very nervy play to try, according to the visiting experts, but when analyzed it was the simplest thing in the world. If the ball was grounded there would be another down to kick, and there wasn't a chance in the world to have the pass intercepted because no opposing players were in that vicinity. Therefore the pass was the best possible play, and it changed the style of football played near the goal line.

Now everybody is looking for a forward pass, even when the punter is standing behind his own goal line. The secondary defense remains back in position and fewer kicks are blocked.

HAS NEW PASS.

Centre College made a brilliant record two years ago, and most of the games were won on aerial football. Charley Moran, the National Ned Cutting is Winner With a Small Bore.

Shooting unusual high scores, the Los Angeles Rifle and Revolver Club staged last Sunday a small-bore rifle match, at 200 yards, in five positions, prone, sitting, kneeling, squatting and standing, with twenty-five shots for record.

Ned Cutting, the old reliable musketeer, won the match by one point over Hart and Thomson.

The contest was unusually keen as it was anyone's match clear up to the last shot. The scores follow: Ned Cutting, 114; A. L. Thomson, 113; R. H. Hart, 112; M. E. Turner, 112; Leon Desert, 112; Mrs. L. Desart, 112; Dr. A. T. Newcomb, 111; J. M. Gates, 110; E. Steininger, 109; J. E. Pierson, 108; C. M. Kreider, 102; J. B. Curry, 97. The possible score was 125.

The last match of the Southern California league will be staged at the Long Beach rifle range during December 3 and 4. The first day will be devoted to long-range matches at 1000 and 800 yards. The second day the rapid fire, mid-range and off-hand shooting will be competed for. Secretary C. M. Kreider will have full charge of this event.

STORM STIRRED UP IN SENATE.

Watson's Hanging Charges Are Cause of Debates.

Declares Soldiers Executed Without Court-martial.

Special Committee Named for Investigation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Charges by Senator Watson, Democrat, Georgia, that many American soldiers in France without court-martial or other trials, stirred up a storm in the Senate today which resulted in the adoption unanimously of an order for an investigation at which the Georgia Senator will be asked to present proof of his charges.

A special committee was appointed after Senator Watson had refused to present his charges before the Senate Military Committee because, he said, it was not impartial. The first meeting will be held tomorrow to decide on procedure.

BITTER EXCHANGES.

Bitter exchanges between Senator Watson and Chairman Wadsworth of the Military Committee, and other Republicans marked debate which preceded the vote for an impartial inquiry into the charges. Senator Wadsworth denied vigorously that any American soldiers had been executed without trial, while Senator Watson reiterated emphatically his charges and when criticized for refusing to present his evidence to the Military Committee, agreed to submit it to some other body.

PHOTOGRAPH SHOWN.

A photograph of a structure, which Senator Watson described as a gallows from which Americans had been executed, figured prominently during the heated exchanges. Senator Wadsworth said he also had been shown that or a similar photograph, but that he did not regard the evidence sufficient to warrant bringing the matter to the attention of the Senate or country, although two former service men had vouched for its authenticity.

Senator Nor entered the debate to submit information which he said he had received from the War Department of the twenty-eight members of the American Expeditionary Force who had been condemned by court-martial, only nine had been executed, whereas Senator Watson had said that at least twenty-one had been hanged, many without having been tried, from the gallows, which he said was shown in the photograph.

Examination of Army records made today by Secretary Weeks revealed that none of the men executed in France during the war was

SOUTHERN JURY TO GET CASE TOMORROW.

PROSECUTION ANALYZES EVIDENCE IN FINAL ARGUMENTS.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

TWIN FALLS (Idaho), Nov. 1.—The evidence on which the state of Idaho is seeking to convict Lydia Meyer Southard of the murder by poison of Edward Meyer, her fourth husband, was analyzed today before the jury by Atty.-Gen. Black. In opening for the prosecution the series of addresses which mark the ending of the trial.

In his summing up the Attorney-General related details of the testimony concerning the death of Meyer and also touched on the death of Harlan C. Lewis and Gordon McHaffie, former husbands of Mrs. Southard, and that of Edward Doyle, her brother-in-law.

Mr. Black emphasized testimony concerning the purchase and possession of insect exterminator by Mrs. Southard and he called attention to the jury to the evidence given by chemists who had made analysis of specimens from Meyer's body.

Arguments are expected to close Thursday.

ANGLE SEA (N. J.) Nov. 1.—Coast guards were still searching tonight for the bodies of eight of the eleven fishermen who lost their lives off Hereford Inlet, when their boats were capsized during a south-easter. Three bodies were washed ashore early today and efforts are being made to reach one of the battered fishing smacks, which ran aground on a bar in the belief that more bodies might be found in it.

The fishermen left here yesterday to raise their nets for the winter. While they were returning in two boats, which had been lashed together to carry the eighty-foot net poles, the men were caught by the storm, several miles from shore. Both boats, according to fishermen, were dashed to pieces by the high seas while trying to cross the bar.

JOHNSON FEARS FOR HIS TOGA.

Coming Home to Build Up Political Fences.

Threatened Mutiny in North Worries Senator.

Whispers of Strong Rival Make Him Shiver.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Hiram Johnson expects to reach California on December 1 to fix up his political fences, and is due for a lot of conferences with his political generals in the hopes that he can avoid any Republican opposition for the Senatorial nomination in the primaries. He expects to be in California until after the first of the year, and will devote himself to smoothing out some of the rough spots in his plan for an unopposed nomination to come back to the Senate for six years more. There are a number of things that are worrying him.

MUTINY THREATENED. First, and foremost, is the mutiny of some of his followers that the majority of his appointments in the north are all members of the Catholic church. He has been told by some of his most powerful friends that he is overdoing the recognition of men of this religion, and they charge that those on whom he has depended for counsel and advice are giving him the wrong view of things. Johnson himself is not so sure of the uprising against this sort of discrimination in the patronage disposal as serious, and he is going home to take up this phase of the situation.

Another thing that is bothering Hiram and his friends is the constantly repeated statements that he is to have a strong opponent in the Republican primaries, and that the man he will have to whip to get the nomination is to be one of the strong Republicans of the State. There is undoubtedly a movement of the different parts of the State to contest the renomination of Johnson, and plans are being laid quietly to place a formidable candidate in the field against him.

HIRAM NOT HAPPY. Furthermore with all the camouflage of his cordial standing with the administration stripped bare Johnson is not as happy over his relationship with the President as he would have appeared.

The real truth of it is that the administration is giving Johnson every chance to line-up with it all along the program. There is no challenge but the administration has a long memory and as far as the future is concerned from the highest to the lowest they are all from Missouri.

Johnson knows now that if his foot slips in any performance involving the executive administration, it will be difficult to explain and stranger things have happened than that a good forceful Republican might not be encouraged to make the race for Senator. These are all more or less nightmares to the wily Hiram and he is going home to poke around a bit and find out what goblins are real and which are just bad dreams.

Not even his fealty to Hearst and his creature Hylan can hold Hiram in the East even if he is engaged in Hylan's fight on traction matters against Gov. Miller of New York State.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

State Banking Head Discloses Figures Which Startle in Their Magnitude; Story of a Miracle Year.

Jonathan S. Dodge, Superintendent of Banks of California, yesterday submitted his first report to Gov. Stephens. The period covered in the document is from July 1, 1920, to October 31, 1921, and discloses startling and vital facts of primary importance to the agricultural, industrial, financial and banking groups of the State.

"California is economically sound and its banks are safe," says Mr. Dodge. "The State has passed successfully through the crisis of deflation and its banks, having met the enormous credit strain of the period, are distributing new credit upon which is being built new prosperity. Our wonderfully varied wealth of the fields and farms and orchards, of the mines and industries and manufactures, of domestic and foreign trade, is upon a firmer and sounder foundation than since the beginning of the World War.

"We are richer than when the war ended. We are free from the speculations of war finance. We are going forward clearly to a realization of great opportunities. Our prime problems are not now those of financial and economic readjustment, but of normal, rapid development, of tremendous physical advantages. Our producing and distributing communities are entitled to the full confidence of our banks and our banks merit the complete reliance of those who demand a just and an adequate NEW BUSINESS ERA.

"The period I seek to analyze is one of general readjustment in business, in prices, in manufacturing activities and a reduction in buying power, together with a credit liquidation and a demoralization in exchange rates. All of these influenced the State and as the year closed we exhibited a material increase in our banking assets, a more normal activity in our banks, a return to normal consumption and employment and a re-establishment of trade and industry upon a new basis.

"We have reached this enviable position after the most eventful and remarkable year in our economic history. It has been a year of strange vicissitudes, but a year of very marked stabilization in all our activities. Our banks have passed through a fire that has taught them the value of sound policies. They have a better vision of our financial needs. The markets of the world demand the products that we have to sell; our State is either overproducing or underproducing; we are sound financially, industrially and economically as any State in the union. We are recovering from inflation, extravagance and unsound reserve sources of strength. Credit is being given freely to solvent business enterprises.

"We have the intelligent cooperation of our banks, a reliance upon each other and through the Federal Reserve system a wonderful reserve source of strength. Credit is being given freely to solvent business enterprises.

ECONOMIC GATES AJAR.
"We stand at the beginning of a new economic life. The Federal Reserve Bank has proved itself to be a shock absorber for the banks of the State. We have gradually and surely been changing from a period of unsettled relative values to a period of real values from temporary, distorted conditions to intrinsic facts in our economic life. The story of the year is that we have been willing to receive a fair recompense for the economic service we render. The artificial expansion that was due to the war and its aftermath, normal expansion, due to economic demands, is making its appearance.

"We supply many of the necessary needs of the world. We recognize clearly what we must do; we know that we need a readjustment of our agricultural situation because of a lack of a present market and declining foreign markets. We need a readjustment of our agricultural, commercial and business interests in the State; we must develop our industries still more and find markets for our surplus production. Our difficulty is not overproduction, but underconsumption. We are very much more than an agricultural State and in that relationship which is to be established between us and these communities we should have free zones which do not injure our industries but promote our trade.

"California banks, possessing more than $700,000,000 in assets are members of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco, and this membership has taught them more than anything else that gold is no longer an evil in finance. The mobilization of gold in the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco prevents its vicious use in the hands of hundreds of banks creating an inflation of unwise credit. Gold is now used to manufacture credit and when credit is not needed gold is not used. The cautious policy of the Federal Reserve Bank is the lever that turns on or shuts off the credit of the banks of California. It is an insurance that before now we neither understood nor enjoyed.

CALIFORNIA COMES BACK.
"California was among the last of the States of the American union to feel the depressing influence of deflation and it is among the first to sense the new and normal conditions of production and distribution. During the year all of our large cities enjoyed a good retail trade. A feeling of confidence came to us after the close of the fiscal year under discussion. Increased production and industrial energy, widely exercised, resulted in an increase in employment; a remarkable development in seasonal activities, in road construction, in reclamation work, in power and irrigation projects, in improvements in all of our chief industries, demonstrated to us and particularly to our banks, that we are again on the high road of sane development.

"Our great co-operative marketing associations, controlling the citrus, apricots, prunes and raisin industries, added in a notable degree to the restoration of our equilibrium. These associations are the model of the world; they are being copied in very other civilized trading communities; they perform a service that is invaluable in the State and their encouragement should be the purpose of every individual in California who has the welfare of the State as his concern.

CROP VALUES QUADRUPLE.
"In ten years the crop value of California has increased from $145,500,000 to $587,000,000. This tremendous increase is due to our use of water and water power, to irrigation, to intensified farming, to increasing the improved condition of the soil, to the improved cultivation of our crops. We have enormous products of the fields and farms; there are immense riches on our ranges, in our seas, in our forests and in our mines.

"We are the fifth State in the union in banking power, as the assets in our State and national banks are more than two and a half bil-

Stock Market Reflects Perplexity of Professional Speculators and Nothing Else.

BY ALEXANDER DANA NOYES,
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Decline in the call money rate to 6 per cent at which it closed; weakness in foreign exchange, with the German mark going below its previous lowest price and closing at the bottom; rapid decline in the cotton and grain markets, and a wholly confused and uncertain drift of prices on the stock exchange—these were the financial movements today gave no evidence of a trend in the general situation. So far as they indicated anything, it was returning instability in prices, which seemed to have reached a standstill footing a month ago.

SPECULATORS PUZZLED.
The stock market reflected the perplexity of professional speculators and nothing else. The market and most of the standard industrial shares hardly moved at all; changes of a point were mostly in the "oil" shares or other speculative industrial shares. As was to be expected after its violent decline of Monday, Mexican Petroleum stock was marked up again today. The manipulation of this stock and the circumstances under which it was carried on, bring the matter as close to old-time exchange scandals as the things get today. The weakness in sterling had to do with Lloyd George's remarks on Ireland in Parliament.

Rediscount Rate Cut to Five Per Cent; Tom Reed Holds Its Own; Gossip of the Street.

Effective this morning the rediscount rates on all classes of paper clearing through the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco will be 5 per cent instead of 5 1/2 per cent which has been the rate since July 25. The cut is in line with easier money and credit conditions which are manifesting themselves throughout the country. The announcement is an important development of readjustment, was made late yesterday afternoon at the office of the Los Angeles branch, unaccompanied by any further elucidation. The news so far as it became known yesterday was received with the liveliest interest and satisfaction by bankers and business men.

TOM REED HISTORY.
Some observers of the local market regard the recent crash of Tom Reed mining shares as nothing more than a case of "history repeating itself." Three years ago Tom Reed properties were sold to be in a liquidation. The most discouraging physical condition as they are said to be in at present. Word came from the mines then that only three months' supply of ore was in sight. Those three months stretched themselves into three years and the mine is still operating and, according to local wisecracks, still has about three months' supply in view.

The truth of the matter seems to be that Tom Reed is a mine of extensive properties and all that is needed is additional development work to uncover further supplies of ore. This was the case three years ago and many will be true now. Further parallels can be found in the action of the market three years ago and in the present. Included in the price of Tom Reed were 33 cents and remained pegged at that figure for some time. Eventually the vital came, the stock recovered, and sold as high as $2.25 a share. Some think Tom Reed may be up to old tricks, because after its rapid fall to a low of 32 cents, it has remained fairly steady at a little above that figure for a week. There has been considerable selling but it has failed to push the stock down any farther.

This recently acquired steadiness under selling pressure may be due to the fact that the stock is said to be worth that much. A minimum because the Tom Reed company owns the right to furnish the city of Oatman with water. Then again, some observers say that the present low marks the end of a shake out the small investors. The remarkable recovery may be the

JAPAN'S WAR STRENGTH.
Prince Tokugawa is, without doubt, sincere in stating that Japan does not want war with the United States.
No nation in its right mind wants war with anybody.
At the same time, it would be folly for us to underestimate Japan as a possible and formidable foe.
Roughly speaking, Japan has a navy about half the size of ours, but our superiority is heavily offset by strategic conditions which favor her.

According to the figures of Hector Bywater, the English naval critic, Japan has now the most powerful ship of war in the world—the Nagato—which is 1200 tons heavier and three knots faster than our finest warship, the Maryland. The Mutsu, the sister ship of the Nagato, is almost ready for sea. The Nagato displaces 38,500 tons. Next year the Japanese will add the Kaga and Tama, displacing 40,000 tons, with twelve sixteen-inch guns.

Before the end of 1924 she is to have the fast battle cruisers, Amagi, Agami, Akagi and Takao, of the same size and armament of six battle cruisers we are building.
Her Eight-eight program contemplates the building of fifteen more dreadnaughts, five of which are under construction.

The United States has approximately twenty dreadnaughts as against Japan's ten, and fifteen capital ships are building.
We have heavy superiority in destroyers and flying boats. Mr. Bywater points out that whereas we have 154 submarines as against forty-five Japanese subs, the latter nation is at work on a vast submarine program which contemplates the building of 150 undersea boats, each with a cruising radius of 11,000 miles. Only sixty-three of our undersea boats are officially classified as such, the remainder being designed for coast defense; hence useless in a Japanese war.

Mr. Bywater also seems to think we are lacking in swift scout cruisers.
In other words, while the Japanese navy is pronouncedly inferior in apparent strength, they have built their ships with the definite purpose of a war with the United States. We have built with only general utility in mind.

The Japanese, of course, in facing the possibility of a naval war with the United States, are buoyed up by the memory of the Battle of Tsushima Straits, when they destroyed the Russian navy, which had sailed from the Baltic to give them combat—as we would have to make the long voyage from this coast.

Japan having seized the Philippines (according to their predictions) would revert to the defensive and calmly await developments.
If her opponent (the United States) so far forgot the rudiments of strategy as to dispatch a fleet to the war zone, relying on a 5000-mile line of communication with Hawaii, the Japanese would resort to a war of attrition by means of submarines and mine-layers working from numerous bases in the South Sea Islands and off the coast of Japan.

Then, when at length the American fleet, harassed and weakened by incessant submarine attacks and with its stock of fuel reduced to a low ebb, proposed to return home, the Japanese battle fleet in full strength would sail forth at the psychological moment and repeat the triumph of Tsushima on a magnificent scale.

In the actual event of war, however, the Japanese might discover, as did the Germans, that it is usually the unexpected which happens in war.

In the long run it would seem that the United States would be bound to win a war against a country as limited in resources as Japan.

A consideration of the physical facts, however, indicates that we have a very practical reason for doing all in our power to smooth out the difficulties between the two countries.

In some quarters there seems to be a disposition to regard such a possible war as a slight to the United States. The facts stated above seem to indicate that it would be a long and terrible struggle.

FOR AN ART CENTER.
Those of the city who stand for civic beauty are talking of a "Chamber of Commerce in size and efficiency, but in the place of commerce shall express all the arts, fine, applied and industrial. Westlake Park environment would be an ideal center for a group of buildings to house these arts, buildings which in themselves would express the art of architecture.

Already the Otis Art Institute on Wilshire boulevard, from whose grassy lawns may be seen the scintillating blue of the lake shining through the trees, is a fine beginning of such a group. There, too, on the west side of the park the California Art Club has its home with the ardent hope of making it permanent. The Los Angeles Ell Club, numbering over 2000 of the leading clubwomen of the State, as well as members who have won distinction in all the arts, a club long known as a leading patron of music, literature and painting, is seriously contemplating moving to such a neighborhood as Westlake and there erecting a clubhouse that shall be in itself an educational and art center, a place where the devotees of beauty love to go. Next week this organization will take definite action in regard to moving and building.

There is ample room at Westlake for other organizations. The Catholic Women's Club, another patron of the arts, is planning to build within a few months. The Philanthropy and Civic Club, essentially interested in drama because of the leadership of Lillian Burkhart Goldsmith, has a substantial building fund. The Drama League Center meets in a downtown building, as do the MacDowell Art Club and the Ruskin Art Club; but they need vitally an open space of attraction for the fostering of the arts they desire to express, a place of charm to invite distinguished visiting artists.

The people of the southwestern part of the city who are interested in drama and the "Little Theater" movement have begun to talk seriously of a community playhouse. Where could there be a better place to build it than in the Westlake quadrangle?

It captures the imagination and holds it, to think of the possibility of these altruistic organizations co-operating in such a cultural center. One art reacts upon another, one is the handmaiden of the other. They magnify and ennoble one another. Art is the universal Esperanto of the world. In such a lovely location arts would converse with one another with clearer understanding. There is just such a site as would meet the requirements for a public library as set forth by Orin Monette of the Public Library Board: "Easy of access, approachable on four sides, on a level and centrally located."

Once Westlake may have been "far out." Even when Gen. Harrison Gray Otis counted his home, "The Bivouac," to the county of Los Angeles to be used for the advancement of art in the West, the place was considered distant from the business center of the city. But today it is "close in." Business has moved out Seventh street at a rapid rate. Many car lines on both Seventh and Sixth streets bring it within easy access.

Westlake is indeed an ideal center for this proposed "Chamber of Culture," a place that may some day have such fame as the Plaza of Venice and the Grand Canal along whose banks are the wonderful castles of art; or as the center of art in Florence, in Paris or as the college campus in our own American towns where stately and dignified buildings, devoted to education and art, have the setting of nature which they need for perfection.

ON THE AMERICAN SCREEN.
A kind friend has sent us a recent issue of the Los Angeles Times in which so many extraordinary things are stated that to quote them will not only be in order as a revelation of the southern city's development, but as a feature of appealing interest to the people of this country.

It will astonish some dubious individuals to learn that Los Angeles is growing faster than any American city has ever grown; that it leads the entire United States in the extent of uninterrupted construction activities; that it has been surpassed this year only by New York City and Chicago in the number of building permits and the valuation of the structures built. Detroit is fourth and San Francisco tenth. The total frontage of Los Angeles' new buildings, if placed side by side, would cover an area of 9.3 miles, or 130 city blocks uptown, or, in other words, 11,752,100 square feet. Last year Los Angeles was sixth in building valuations—this year's figures show the steady climb that what The Times calls the white spot of the nation is making toward being safely ensconced as the home of the prosperity community of America."

From January 1 of this year to the end of September a total of 25,111 building permits were issued. The best building record in the history of the city is $4,944,500 for 1920, which was also a big building year; the permits carried a valuation of $4,952,000.

This is very interesting, but please read on. Los Angeles received an income last year from building and other departmental permits of $93,558.10, while this year the city treasury fees amounted to $153,158.45. "And still," says The Times, "the applications for new building permits come rolling in to the City Hall in record-breaking numbers, making necessary the employment of nineteen additional clerks, stenographers and inspectors to handle the work."

We have heard of dream cities, of Utopian cities, of the creations of genius in a thousand directions, but none of these nor all of them quite compare with the leap, pulsing, fascinating strides of Los Angeles. Not long ago, and even now, to our shame be it said, other California cities viewed with envy and jealousy the extraordinary advances of Los Angeles, but today it is so far ahead of anything else in the State in population and all that the word implies that only a very narrow-minded observer would fail to recognize its supremacy.

What Central and Northern California should do is to join the Los Angeles trumpeters so that the world may know that those of us in other sections of California are as proud of the achievements of the people of the southern city as they are themselves. Only as we help to fill up the south until the land is occupied and the population overflows its banks can we expect to get a share of the people and wealth that so uninterruptedly flow through the gates of the south, of Los Angeles, and the people of California are second to no other section of the world. But if we cannot convince the man of means in the East that this is so, why not agree that Los Angeles is supreme, and when we get this man and his money out here to help swell the overflow of the south, it is not impossible that we shall fare better than to spend our time wondering why it all is, why we are given seeds and Los Angeles first choice in our world. Fill up the State, let the new ones go where they will and eventually we shall all come into our own.

In the meantime we here in Northern and Central California know what we have—we know that climatically and agriculturally we are second to no other section of the world. But if we cannot convince the man of means in the East that this is so, why not agree that Los Angeles is supreme, and when we get this man and his money out here to help swell the overflow of the south, it is not impossible that we shall fare better than to spend our time wondering why it all is, why we are given seeds and Los Angeles first choice in our world. Fill up the State, let the new ones go where they will and eventually we shall all come into our own.

What Central and Northern California should do is to join the Los Angeles trumpeters so that the world may know that those of us in other sections of California are as proud of the achievements of the people of the southern city as they are themselves. Only as we help to fill up the south until the land is occupied and the population overflows its banks can we expect to get a share of the people and wealth that so uninterruptedly flow through the gates of the south, of Los Angeles, and the people of California are second to no other section of the world. But if we cannot convince the man of means in the East that this is so, why not agree that Los Angeles is supreme, and when we get this man and his money out here to help swell the overflow of the south, it is not impossible that we shall fare better than to spend our time wondering why it all is, why we are given seeds and Los Angeles first choice in our world. Fill up the State, let the new ones go where they will and eventually we shall all come into our own.

In the meantime we here in Northern and Central California know what we have—we know that climatically and agriculturally we are second to no other section of the world. But if we cannot convince the man of means in the East that this is so, why not agree that Los Angeles is supreme, and when we get this man and his money out here to help swell the overflow of the south, it is not impossible that we shall fare better than to spend our time wondering why it all is, why we are given seeds and Los Angeles first choice in our world. ON THE AMERICAN SCREEN.
A kind friend has sent us a recent issue of the Los Angeles Times in which so many extraordinary things are stated that to quote them will not only be in order as a revelation of the southern city's development, but as a feature of appealing interest to the people of this country.

It will astonish some dubious individuals to learn that Los Angeles is growing faster than any American city has ever grown; that it leads the entire United States in the extent of uninterrupted construction activities; that it has been surpassed this year only by New York City and Chicago in the number of building permits and the valuation of the structures built. Detroit is fourth and San Francisco tenth. The total frontage of Los Angeles' new buildings, if placed side by side, would cover an area of 9.3 miles, or 130 city blocks uptown, or, in other words, 11,752,100 square feet. Last year Los Angeles was sixth in building valuations—this year's figures show the steady climb that what The Times calls the white spot of the nation is making toward being safely ensconced as the home of the prosperity community of America."

From January 1 of this year to the end of September a total of 25,111 building permits were issued. The best building record in the history of the city is $4,944,500 for 1920, which was also a big building year; the permits carried a valuation of $4,952,000.

This is very interesting, but please read on. Los Angeles received an income last year from building and other departmental permits of $93,558.10, while this year the city treasury fees amounted to $153,158.45. "And still," says The Times, "the applications for new building permits come rolling in to the City Hall in record-breaking numbers, making necessary the employment of nineteen additional clerks, stenographers and inspectors to handle the work."

We have heard of dream cities, of Utopian cities, of the creations of genius in a thousand directions, but none of these nor all of them quite compare with the leap, pulsing, fascinating strides of Los Angeles. Not long ago, and even now, to our shame be it said, other California cities viewed with envy and jealousy the extraordinary advances of Los Angeles, but today it is so far ahead of anything else in the State in population and all that the word implies that only a very narrow-minded observer would fail to recognize its supremacy.

What Central and Northern California should do is to join the Los Angeles trumpeters so that the world may know that those of us in other sections of California are as proud of the achievements of the people of the southern city as they are themselves. JONES DEMANDS MORE OFFICERS.

Three Hundred Policemen at Once, Chief's Wish.

Asks Council to Reconsider Its Recent Decision.

But Twenty Clerks Can be Replaced, He Says.

Renewing his request for 300 additional policemen and asking a reconsideration of the recent vote of the City Council by which 100 men were added to the department, Police Chief Jones will submit to the City Council a report this morning showing the results of his recent survey of the local police situation.

Chief Jones was asked by the City Council to report regarding the number of officers now doing clerical and other non-patrol duty who could be replaced by clerks, and under the plan proposed by the Civil Service Commission, releasing the patrolmen for active duty. The chief will report that as a result of his investigation not more than twenty officers could be replaced by clerks, and under the Council's vote, this would mean that the employment of the department would be authorized and employment provided for twenty clerks.

Chief Jones, in his report, will again call attention to the need of protecting life and property in Los Angeles and the necessity of providing sufficient officers to prevent crime in the hope that as a result of the widespread feeling of indignation over the action of five members of the City Council in voting against the employment of 300 additional policemen at once, the Council may reconsider its action and increase the number of new men to at least 100, or possibly 150, as requested by the Chief and by the Board of Police Commissioners.

When Failure Hurts the Most

Why Are Some People Successful and Others Failures? Why Is One Person Healthy and Happy While Another Is Sick and Gloomy?

It is because one has pure, rich, red blood, while the other has weak, watery, thin blood which is loaded with waste products.

The blood is more important than any of the organs. It is thru the blood that the whole human body is directly or indirectly nourished. The body gets its nourishment from the intestines. The intestines also contain waste products—undigested foods, acids, gases and refuse, which sometimes get in the blood.

Don't clog the system—clean it out—eliminate the waste products. Waste matter in the blood causes people to be thin, pale and weak. It causes pain in the joints and muscles—it causes skin troubles, pimples, bad boils and sores. A good blood purifier is needed to rid the system of waste products.

Board of Education Makes Place for Huge Sum Lens Uncovers for Public Needs.

Los Angeles schools have an unappropriated cash balance of $178,751.81 which they did not know about until yesterday, when Auditor Lens asked the Board of Education what he should do with the unearched funds.

"This is chiefly due," said his report, "to unexpended revenues being received, such as prior year taxes, Federal and State aid, and other sources, and increase in assessed valuation including annexed territory."

However, there seemed places for most of the money and it took the board only a few minutes to place $100,000 in the equipment fund, $25,000 for improvements and all the rest, $53,751.81, for alterations of the old building, for moving, bungalows and $2000 for miscellaneous purposes.

"And there will be some way found to expend the rest," one member of the board informed the others.

TRIAL FOR MURDER IS FEUD ECHO.

Government Lawyer States Case Against Indian Said to Have Slain Policeman.

Echoes of a feud among the Mission Indians on the Coachella Reservation in Riverside county that culminated in the murder of John Largo, a policeman in the employ of the government, were heard yesterday with the start of the trial of Felix Tortes before U. S. District Judge Trippett and a jury.

There was much difficulty experienced in securing a jury, and a special venire was necessary before the panel was filled.

The murder occurred on the morning of last March 22, when Officer Largo and Dr. Eugene W. Hawkins, the physician on the reservation, went to the house of Francisco Lugo, better known among the Indians as Chico Lugo, regarding an account that Lugo owed the government for supplies.

The bill was presented to Lugo, who tore it out of the hand of Dr. Hawkins. Largo attempted to take the paper containing the account from Lugo, when Tortes, who was making his home with Lugo, and who, it is asserted, was standing unknown to the visitors near by, is said to have aimed his rifle and shot twice at Dr. Hawkins, but missed him. Tortes then drew his revolver out of its holster for the protection of Dr. Hawkins, and shot him through the heart. This is in brief the case that the government expects to prove, according to the statement made to the jury by Asst. U. S. Atty. Camarillo.

On the part of Tortes the plea of self-defense will be advanced, and it will be asserted that Tortes was out hunting coyotes and rabbits when the altercation occurred.

G. E. Pinto, the woman's husband, was only slightly hurt as a result of the collision.

At the Receiving Hospital, where Mrs. Pinto was taken in an ambulance, she was treated by police surgeons for concussion of the brain and a possible skull fracture, a crushed chest, several broken ribs and a smashed right shoulder.

From what the police were able to learn, Pinto drove his motorcycle against the side of an automobile driven by Chester Armstrong of 4120 Camero Road.

Faces Assault Trial and Suit for Thousands

Coinciding with the naming yesterday of the date of the trial of William Hazen, who is charged, shot Mrs. Pearl Purdy in the back last April 24, suit for $16,000 damages was begun by the woman against the man in the Superior Court. Hazen appeared in Judge Avery's court charged with assault to commit murder, and his trial was set for January 2.

Mrs. Purdy and Mr. Hazen returned to the woman's apartment at 1621 South Hope street following a party last April. In some mysterious manner the young woman was shot while her back was turned to the man. At the hospital the next day Hazen declared he knew nothing of the shooting, and that if he did it it had been accidental. He stated that the couple had been drinking some post-prohibition beverages.

Yesterday Mr. Hazen appeared with Attorneys Ford and Bodkin and Mrs. Purdy with Duke Stone, her lawyer. The trial was set for January. Then Mr. Stone, as attorney for Mrs. Purdy, filed suit for damages.

ROBBERIES HIT HIGH MARK

Hundred Hold-ups Reported in October.

Thirteen Victims Lost in Single Night.

Thousands in Money Loot of Bandits.

A new record in robberies was set yesterday by bandits in Los Angeles. During the night, 100 highway robberies were reported, and the rest in the city. The hold-ups were almost all between bandits and passengers in automobiles and footpaths. Great versatility was shown in the methods of the burglars. Some changed their status from a garage ransacker to a highway robber, and others changed from a highway robber to a garage ransacker.

The groceries, twenty-four dollars worth, were held up by bandits. Three passengers were freed upon by bandits. One day, October 31, without a report of a hold-up, the night, the 15th, seven and six grocery stores were held up.

The footpaths were isolated, the automobile bandits were trusted to the car, usually stolen. The automobile bandits

What Women Are Doing in Widening Fields of New Endeavor.

DRAMA LEAGUE CHANGES HOME.

Women's Athletic Club Will Build New Quarters.

Revolutionary Daughters to Hold Session Today.

Other Activities Scheduled for Local Clubdom.

BY MYRA NYE.

In order to be in closer touch with the Los Angeles Community Service and other city activities, the Drama League of America, Los Angeles Center, has removed its offices to 200 Normal Hill Center, Fifth street and Grand avenue, with the sections holding their meetings at the Kaist Art Gallery.

The play-reading section will meet tomorrow evening when "Pharaoh's Daughter," by Dr. and Mrs. Allison Gay and recently purchased by Margaret Anglin, will be read. Dr. Gay assisted by Anthony F. Blanks of the University of Southern California will be the leader of this section, succeeding Richard Ingalls.

On the evening of the 10th inst. a reception for members of the league and their friends will be held at the Three-Arts Club, 1601 West Washington street. Playwrights and artists will be among the guests.

The play-writing section will be under the leadership of Francis Joseph Hickson for the reading of manuscript plays written by members.

ANSWERED LETTERS.
Constant Reader: Please give a recipe in your column for Apple-on-a-Stick. I would also like to know what is used for coloring cake icings pink—and what I could use to color the coating of the apple pink, too.

Answer: Vegetable coloring paste is used to color both the icing and the coating of Apple-on-a-Stick. But a very pretty crust-creamery colored icing may be obtained by using grape jelly in the following way: Put 3 tablespoons of grape jelly in a bowl, beat well, and add 1 teaspoon vanilla. Mix and stir in 1 cup confectioners' sugar. This will ice 6 cup-cakes. You could use grape-apple jelly in the same way. Confectioners coat their apples with the following recipe:

on a spoon. The Colony Club of New York has written to us asking an outline of what we propose to do. Our project is to build the clubhouse with the thought of the women of moderate means who come to the city from out-of-town and find no place to stop except a hotel. In addition to some 200 rooms for rent the club will have space suitable for card parties, teas and other social events.

We plan to have a beautiful auditorium where the forty clubs in the city who have no homes may hold their meetings. Another feature contemplated in the provision of athletic opportunities such as swimming pools, a gymnasium and a floor for dancing, where lessons may be given to club women as well as to their daughters. In the dining-room professional women and club women can entertain their guests with luncheons, dinners and supper parties after the theater. In short, here would be centered the interests of home for busy Los Angeles women.

For the purpose of gaining more room for its increased activities the club has taken business quarters

Boiled, Baked Potato Secret Revealed to Wyman.

New Way of Serving Lobsters Popular in Montreal.

Deep-Dish Apple Pie Listed on All Hotel Menus.

BY A. L. WYMAN, M.C.A.

MONTREAL, Oct. 29.—This is our last day in Canada. To one who is interested in cuisine ours has been a most enjoyable visit. No part of this continent uses so many pronounced kinds of cooking as Eastern Canada. The most prominent are the English and French, and in the secret of preparing them. For the baked potatoes, boil them for ten minutes in salted water and then place them in a hot oven. They will thus require less time in the baking. The boiled potatoes, which tasted like baked potatoes, were boiled in water that contained a half a cup of salt to each quart of water. These two methods make potatoes more mealy.

A green pepper salad served at the inn at Brantford was made by removing the seeds and seeds from the peppers, cutting them into small cubes, and placing them in ice water for an hour. Mash a cream cheese with one tablespoonful of butter, add a seasoning of salt and paprika; remove the pepper shells from the ice water, dry and fill with the cream cheese mixture and place in the ice box to harden. Line salad plates with crisp lettuce leaves. Slice the peppers crosswise with a sharp knife and put four or five slices on each plate, lay a strip of pimiento across each slice and serve with a Russian dressing.

For the Russian dressing mix one cupful of mayonnaise with one tablespoonful of holding oil of tarragon vinegar, one teaspoonful of French mustard, two teaspoonfuls of chopped capers, two tablespoonfuls of chili sauce, one tablespoonful of finely chopped green pepper and one teaspoonful of finely-chopped young onion. This sauce should be mixed in a bowl rubbed with a clove of garlic.

DELICIOUS SALAD.
Another salad served at the Chateau at Quebec was made by removing three equal parts from half of grapefruit and freezing the remaining part of the fruit from the skin and cross-ribs. Fill the three hollowed-out parts, one each, with diced canned peaches, broken walnuts and seedless raisins. For a dressing mix one part of grapefruit juice with two parts of olive oil and season with salt and paprika.

Another salad was made with two cupfuls of crab flakes, one cupful of diced cucumber, two tablespoonfuls of chopped pimiento and half a cupful of Russian dressing. This was served in lettuce cups and garnished with halved stuffed olives, whole capers, chopped parsley and little mounds of caviar.

At this time of the year all the menus have at the bottom, with the desserts, Canadian deep-dish apple pie and the two best recipes are given below.

Peel and core six tart apples and cut in eight pieces. Place the slices around the bottom of a deep baking dish a little ways from the sides. Cover the apples with a layer of seeded raisins and cover all with the grated rind of one lemon and half a cupful of sugar mixed with half a teaspoonful of grated nutmeg.

Cover top of the pie with a rich custard, between each layer of apples sprinkle sugar, cinnamon and small bits of butter. Cover the apples with a better one by beating one egg with half a cupful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of butter, one cupful of flour sifted with one teaspoonful of baking powder. See that the batter is spread smooth and dot it with small pieces of butter. Bake thirty minutes in a medium oven. Serve with custard sauce.

BUTTERSCOTCH PIE.

Another pie served at this cafe is the butterscotch. Beat light the yolks of two eggs with three-quarters of a cupful of brown sugar, add one tablespoonful of soft butter and two tablespoonfuls of flour. Beat until smooth and beat in one cupful of rich milk. Place in a double-boiler and cook until thick. Cool, flavor with one teaspoonful of vanilla and half a teaspoonful of lemon extract. Pour into baked pie shells and cover with a meringue made with the whites of two eggs and one cupful of sugar and a little lemon. Set in cool oven and brown slowly. Good hot or cold.

Shrimp lobsters, crabs and oysters are at their best here and all the cafes have some special of serving them. One of the cafes in the French section of Quebec they serve lobster Marie, which is made by making a cream sauce in double boiler with three tablespoonfuls of butter, three tablespoonfuls of flour, half a cupful of milk and one cupful of cream. When the sauce is thick and smooth add two tablespoonfuls of dry mustard, two teaspoonfuls of chopped parsley, a seasoning of salt, pepper and grated nutmeg. Add to the sauce the beaten yolks of two eggs and the diced meat of two California lobsters, which have been boiled and carefully removed from their shells. Butter the shells inside and fill with the cream lobster mixture, cover with browned, buttered bread crumbs. Place a slice of lemon on each lobster half and brown in the oven. Serve in the shells on plates garnished with shredded lettuce and cabbage mixed with French dressing.

Next week we will be down in Pennsylvania again on our way to the Ohio, Virginia and Louisiana.

FREE At Your Druggist's THIS WEEK

Your Hair Needs Palm and Olive Oils for health and beauty

The coupon which appears in this advertisement entitles you to a 15-cent trial bottle of Palmolive Shampoo free when presented to your druggist. It is offered to prove to you how this blend of palm and olive oils will transform your hair.

How it makes it glossy, how it makes it soft, how it makes it beautifully fluffy——without a trace of the harshness, dryness and injurious brittleness which usually follows shampoos.

This 15-cent trial bottle contains a generous quantity—enough to shampoo luxuriously the heaviest hair. Present it at once—this is a one-week offer. If your regular druggist can't supply you call on another.

Palm and Olive Oils

The softening effects of olive oil are responsible for gloss and softness. It produces a mild penetrating lather which softens and relaxes the scalp and enters roots and hair cells.

The accumulation of dirt and oil is thoroughly dissolved. Dandruff is penetrated and removed.

Palm oil contributes richness and body to this lather and makes it lasting. Both oils have been famous since Cleopatra's day for their softening, relaxing qualities which no others possess.

Combats dandruff

Dandruff, which doctors call seborrhea and say causes most hair troubles, is not removed by most shampoos.

The dry, oily scales are impervious to usual cleansing. It only makes them more powdery and flaky.

But they must be got rid of some way or you may lose your hair. Dandruff packs around the roots and interferes with nutrition. This makes even the normal secretion found on every scalp dangerous to hair health.

The softening, penetrating lather produced by the combination of palm and olive oils loosens the scales and dislodges them from the scalp. The delicate organism of each hair is free for healthy activity.

Present the coupon at once for the free 15-cent trial bottle, for one shampoo will prove that all we say is true. You will never be satisfied with other ways of shampooing once you learn what Palmolive will do.

This 15 cent trial bottle of Palmolive Shampoo. Simply present the coupon.

This test will show you the simple way to soft, silky, glossy hair. The offer is for one week only.

SEAFARSHIP TO TEST GUNS.

Remains of Jutland Battle
Will be Revived.

Today Test of California to be Held Soon.

The Fighter Also Will Have Standardization Trial.

Remains of the famous sea battle of Jutland will be revived about 100 miles off the California coast today, when the battleship California, newest and largest of Uncle Sam's fighting fleet, will go to sea for the official test of her big battery of guns.

Under the direction of Dr. H. L. Clegg and his staff from the United States Bureau of Standards at Washington, the California's guns will roar today and in the future. Broadside after broadside, with twelve four-inch guns participating, will be fired at intervals, and a large force of observers will be expended in ammunition.

The California dropped anchor in San Pedro harbor late Monday night and will remain there until the 10th inst. Early yesterday morning Dr. Clegg and his staff of eight standardization experts boarded the battleship and will remain at anchor in the harbor until after Armistice day, when they will sail for a point 100 miles off the California coast.

It is said yesterday that the ship will last over a period of ten days. The present plan is for the California to remain at anchor in the harbor until after Armistice day, when they will sail for a point 100 miles off the California coast. The ship will be anchored here and every test known to the service will be given the California's big guns during the stay that follows. It is only by the tests that any existing defects in the guns may be found, and the ship will be anchored here and every test known to the service will be given the California's big guns during the stay that follows.

If you would know some who collect, and why, see The Times Sunday. It will be worth your while and may encourage you to collect, too.

NET WOMAN IN RUG THEFT.

Quiz Reveals, Police Say, That Patrol Owner Hired Ex-convicts to Guard Homes.

Completing a three weeks' investigation into the affairs of the Windsor Patrol, an organization ostensibly operated for the protection of Wilshire homes, Detective Sergeant Cahill, Herman Cline and Cato last night arrested a woman, Mrs. Lillian Sigel, age 59 years, the last of six persons now in jail suspected of participating in the robbery from a rug store at 237 South Western avenue on September 8, of $15,000 worth of oriental rugs.

Benjamin Windsor, owner of the Windsor Patrol; M. T. Wilhoite, former manager of the patrol, and Jack Tobin, alias McGuire, a former employee of the patrol, are in jail on suspicion of burglary. Other members of the so-called "gang" in jail are "Red" (Charles) Smith, and a man who gave his name as M. D. Harlay, but who, the police believe, is M. D. Ordway of this city. Harlay is said to have helped dispose of the stolen rugs. Mrs. Sigel, who, the detectives say, has used the aliases of Adler and Lillian Wilson, is suspected of grand larceny. The police state that she acted as a "fence" for the men.

The investigation of Detective Cahill, Cline and Cato, divulged, they say, the fact that Windsor employed eight ex-convicts last winter to guard homes in the Wilshire district from thieves and house-breakers.

The final arrest came last night after the detectives had gained information that Mrs. Sigel had shipped on October 1, one rug valued at $1500 to her son, Harry Adler at 408 Broadway, Chicago, and on October 12, a trunk containing nine small oriental rugs valued at $1500, the detectives say.

DELAY HEARING IN MURDER CASE.

Preliminary Trial of Pasadena Man Goes Over.

New Secretary of Business Club Takes Up Work.

Hold Glendale Man on Charge of Forgery.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.) PASADENA, Nov. 1.—So much time was taken in presenting evidence at the preliminary hearing this afternoon of Charles M. Short, charged with shooting and killing his wife several weeks ago, that Justice of the Peace Ben Strang continued the hearing until Saturday morning.

The murder with which Short is charged occurred under unusual conditions. Constable Sorey had just arrested Short on an insanity complaint, sworn to by his in-laws. Short asked to be allowed to get some clothes. As he turned away from the officers, it is alleged, he shot and killed his wife and then attempted to kill Constable Sorey. The bullet missed the constable, and he and his aide, Ed Rosen, overpowered Short. Since then, the defendant has been in the County Hospital and unable to appear in court for preliminary hearing until today.

As the defendant was without funds, the court today appointed A. E. Jamieson to represent him as counsel at the preliminary hearing.

MERCHANTS TO BANQUET. Capt. Charles S. Conner arrived today from San Fernando to become secretary and manager of the Pasadena Merchants Association, having resigned the post of Chamber of Commerce secretary in San Fernando city. His first official act here was to announce November 17 as the date for the annual banquet of the merchants' association.

HELD TO HIGHER COURT. Henry P. Whittier, alleged forger whose escape from the Glendale City Jail and later capture by the Pasadena police while he was sleeping beside his automobile, was taken to the County Jail today, having been bound over to the Superior Court by Judge Ben Strang in justice court. He was bound over on a charge of passing a forged check for $115 here. He recently was held to answer a similar charge in Glendale and escaped before his commitment to the County Jail.

CHAMBER IS HOST. The Red Cross officials who have been in conference here since yesterday were entertained by the Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon in the chamber rooms here today. Present activities of the Southern California chapters of the Red Cross were reviewed at the conference today.

BUSINESS IS BETTER. Business is improving in the East, and there is much hope there in President Harding's efforts to bring about world limitation of armaments, said Dr. Franklin D. Mather, State Assemblyman from the East, today, upon his return from a stay of three months in the East.

Famous Pegleg Gold Mine is Reported Found

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 1.—Believing that they had discovered the famous lost Pegleg mine, two World War veterans came into Beaumont and set that town all agog with many specimens of almost pure gold which they assert they found about forty miles out in the desert.

All efforts get their names have failed, they simply being known as Bill and Bob. One of the men was near exhaustion when they reached Beaumont, but after recovering and again stocking up with supplies, they vanished into the desert reaches. They asserted there is three-quarters of a million in pure gold in sight.

The lure of the Pegleg mine has probably cost a score of prospectors' lives in an attempt to find it. It was first found by Pegleg Smith, resident of San Bernardino, half a century ago, who often made trips to the desert and returned laden with gold nuggets. He never told where the mine was located, but left a crude map which, however, never served as a guide to the property.

Many attempts to locate the treasure have failed. Some years ago a squaw came into Belmont with an apron-full of nuggets but died from thirst before she could tell where she got them. Some years ago a Riverside party attempted to locate the mine but lost their lives in the attempt.

The men who now believe they have found the famous mine were searching for it before the war. Since the war, according to Constable Combs of Beaumont, they have been making a continual try to locate the gold, and now believe they have the original mine.

WINS SLOGAN CONTEST. (LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.) WHITTIER, Nov. 1.—The Chamber of Commerce Committee on "city beautification" some time ago inaugurated a slogan campaign, and a prize of $10 was won by Miss Dorothy Barnhart, whose slogan was "Make every back yard a front yard." Mrs. W. S. Barnhart won second with, "Flowers instead of weeds," and Granville Artwood won third with, "Beautify Whittier, the gem of the foothills."

Much interest was shown in the contest and the Chamber of Commerce feels that the city is back of the movement to make the Quaker City one of the most beautiful in Southern California.

ORANGE BLOSSOMS IN ORANGE COUNTY

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) SANTA ANA, Nov. 1.—With 217 marriage licenses issued by County Clerk J. M. Backs during the last month exceeding by one license the record of 216 for September, Dan Cupid seems bent on making 1921 a record year for Orange county.

Whether the mild climate and warm weather that has lasted late into the fall are responsible for the large number of licenses during the last month as a result of the glamour and romance of the summer is a question.

The mark set for October was near that of the summer months, with June leading with 247, July mustering 230 and August totaling 235.

County Clerk Backs is beginning to wonder what may be expected of November.

PLAN TEST OF PICTURE ORDINANCE.

Promoters of Fight Film to Take Case to Higher Court on Appeal if Necessary.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) LONG BEACH, Nov. 1.—This city's motion picture ordinance will be tested in court as a result of the arrest today by Chief of Police Ben W. McLendon and Officers Bailey and Moran, of David LeVitt, proprietor of the Laughlin Theater, where moving pictures of the Dempsey-Carpenter prize fight were shown in defiance of warnings and orders from the police department and against the sentiment of the present municipal administration.

Attorneys Swaffield and Swaffield, for the management of the theater, have announced that the pictures would be shown and a test case made of the exhibition. LeVitt, who was arrested following the first run of the pictures, was released from custody on $50 bail.

Manager Robert Baratta of the Laughlin Theater made the following statement after the arrest of his machine operator:

"The arrest of Mr. LeVitt and the notice that we must not exhibit the pictures else they would be seized, is in our opinion, unwarranted. The Laughlin Theater is being operated this week for the benefit of the disabled veterans of the World War, whose service is proceeds from each performance excepting actual expenses of operation, payment of salaries and similar items. We are prepared to carry this fight to the highest courts as we believe the ordinance does not govern in this case."

Chief McLendon said that he would secure a complaint at once charging the operator with the exhibition of pictures which show the beating of a human being in a manner offensive to the moral sense.

Attorneys Swaffield and Swaffield asked Chief McLendon to release LeVitt on bail, saying that it was a test case and such courtesy should be accorded the defendants.

ASK ADJUSTMENT OF BANK'S AFFAIRS. DEPOSITORS ANXIOUS TO GET CONTROL OF MONEY ON DEPOSIT.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) SAN DIEGO, Nov. 1.—Many depositors of the People's National Bank of National City closed by Federal order, had all their funds in the bank and are becoming impatient for adjustment of the institution's affairs, according to reports today.

A number of the bank's patrons will request the controller of currency to appoint some National City man receiver for the institution.

Dr. E. M. Fly, president of the bank, is expected to return from the East Saturday and it is said action may be deferred until he returns.

In favoring a local man for receiver, the depositors say that a local man would better understand conditions than an outsider and would expedite an adjustment of the bank's affairs.

Failure of the directors to furnish more details of the bank's difficulty is causing much critical objection from depositors.

TO HOLD INQUEST. Coroner to Investigate Death of High School Boy.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) SANTA ANA, Nov. 1.—That an inquest will be held tomorrow over the body of Martin Shoemaker, Orange high school boy, killed last night when the bicycle he was riding was struck by a truck on Glassell street, was announced today by Coroner C. D. Brown.

Shoemaker, with a companion, William Bratmiller, were riding their bicycles on Glassell street when a truck, driven by Gus Struck, turned in front of them, into the driveway of a residence.

Shoemaker was thrown under the truck, one or possibly both wheels passing over his body. He died thirty minutes later from the internal injuries received. Bratmiller was also hit by the machine, but suffered only minor injuries.

WOMAN WINS DAMAGES AFTER AUTO COLLISION. Five hundred dollars in damages were awarded Mrs. Cosetta Lips against Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Waitman in Judge Walton J. Wood's court yesterday as a result of a collision between the Lips and Waitman automobiles on Valley Boulevard last January 4.

SCOUT LEADERS IN CONFERENCE

Annual Meeting of Executives at Long Beach.

Most Important Business, Says Speaker.

New York Man Delivers Day's Principal Address.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) LONG BEACH, Nov. 1.—"We are here on the most important business of the nation," declared C. C. Moore of San Francisco at the opening session of the two-day conference of the twelfth regional district of Boy Scouts, comprising all the Western States of America and the Hawaiian Islands.

Mr. Moore responded to the address of welcome delivered at Hotel Virginia by V. L. Stephens, superintendent of the Long Beach schools and active in local Boy Scout movements. Continuing, Mr. Moore said: "What could be more important than the forming of the character of the boys who are to follow us. We are here as trustees of the greatest trust in all America, the future of our boys. Of what importance is our foreign trade, our industries, our nation's business, unless we train the boys of today to be the men of tomorrow and qualify them to carry on our work in a bigger and better way than we have done."

He expressed his appreciation of the welcome and said that all California and pleasure in the attractiveness and comfort of Hotel Virginia.

Mr. Moore then introduced Dr. George J. Fisher of New York, chief Scout executive, who delivered the principal address of the initial session, which was presided over by Assemblyman Frank F. Merriam of Long Beach.

Dr. Fisher, an official of the national organization of Boy Scouts, sketched the development of the movement from its pioneer stages to its present high standing in the community, in every city of note.

Mr. Moore next introduced Milton A. McKee, a retired newspaper publisher who divides his time between San Diego and Detroit. He is one of the foremost figures in the Scout movement. For eleven years he has given time and money for the work and has the honor of being the father of scouting in both San Diego and Detroit. He was also the first president of the council in both those cities. He said that the Scout movement was the greatest factor in Americanization and that he considered that his investment of time and money in the Scout movement was the best thing he has ever done in a business way.

The conference is of lay representatives and scout executives, and the Twelfth Region comprises all of California, Arizona, Nevada, Utah and the Territory of Hawaii. Many big business men, Rotarians, Kiwanis and Scottish Rite Masons are in attendance for the lay council of Scouting draw on the most important men of every community.

REDLANDS ORANGES BRING BIG RETURN.

MORE THAN THREE THOUSAND CARS SELL FOR TOTAL OF $4,000,000.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.) REDLANDS, Nov. 1.—The orange packing season of 1921 came to a close last night with a total shipment from Redlands of 1550 cars, of which number almost 1000 cars were navel. It was a most successful season from a financial standpoint, the average per car being well over $1100, which returns about $4.50 a box. This gives the grower more than 2 cents a pound for his fruit.

The total citrus shipments from the county for the season just closed has reached about 9000 cars, which is considered a fair crop.

Redlands is the largest citrus fruit producing center in the county and the largest navel district in this section, according to the reports. The crop here during the season just closed has been sold for approximately $4,000,000.

WILL INVESTIGATE SCHOOL BOY PRANK

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) RIVERSIDE, Nov. 1.—DM Pomona High School students paint the unsightly "Pomona 1922" on the walls of the Polytechnic High School group of buildings last night in revenge for the recent defeat administered its football team by Riverside.

Or was it because of the rather unportsmanlike visit the Riverside rooters paid Pomona after the game which brought forth a shower of fresh eggs from the Pomonans?

These and other questions are revolving themselves in the minds of the Board of Education who are considering the employment of detectives to ferret out the mystery. Officers were put on the trail of the perpetrators today.

SOCIETY LEADER GIVEN DIVORCE.

Mrs. Nina C. Untermyer Wins Separation Decree.

Husband Son of Prominent New York Attorney.

Court Upholds Wife's Charges of Desertion.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) RIVERSIDE, Nov. 1.—Mrs. Nina C. Untermyer of New York, who has been prominent in local society circles for the past seven years, was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce today from Alvin Untermyer, son of Samuel Untermyer, prominent corporation lawyer of New York City.

Neither of the principals were in court when the action came up for hearing before Judge George E. Freeman. The charge of desertion brought by Mrs. Untermyer was uncontroverted, except for the filing of an answer in which Untermyer denies the allegations.

The circles in which Mr. and Mrs. Untermyer moved are not surprised at the outcome of the couple's troubles, which began when Untermyer returned from war service. He was not pleased, his friends say, with the reports that reached him of her conduct during his absence.

In her deposition, Mrs. Untermyer states that they parted finally on April 11, 1920, when Untermyer left for New York, after a ten day trial at improving their marital relations.

His efforts were not successful, she said, the husband declaring he was "through" and would not live with her again.

The Untermyers were married in New York in February, 1913. The following year they moved to this city, where they were prominent in that branch of local society which devotes itself largely to outdoor sports. Mrs. Untermyer's love for fine dogs resulted in the bringing together of a kennel of thoroughbreds, which won many a blue ribbon in Southern California exhibitions.

After living for three years in the fashionable residence districts on Victoria avenue and Hawarden Drive, the Untermyers built a fine home at 255 Magnolia avenue in the midst of a twenty-acre orange grove. In 1920, Mrs. Untermyer alleges that the members of her family came to pay a winter's visit. Untermyer ordered her to leave the house. This she did staying at the

VENICE PATROL TO BE OLD BOOZE CAR.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.) VENICE, Nov. 1.—Can a bootlegger's car, learned in the wiles of carrying contraband liquor and its agents, "reform," and turning on its running-mates, aid the police in running down booze peddlers?

This is the question that bobbed up last night when the Venice Trustees authorized Chief of Police W. E. Cavanaugh and City Engineer Walter Crawford to purchase a new police machine. The officials will attend an auction of seized bootleggers' machines conducted by the United States Marshal's office at San Diego later in the week and negotiate for a car to be used as police patrol here.

Mission Inn for two weeks. It was soon after this that another trial at marital happiness was made. The Untermyers had no children and no community property. No specific alimony was asked for. The plaintiff was represented by John W. Hart of Los Angeles and the defendant by John D. Fredericks and Byron Hanna, also of Los Angeles.

BURGLARS BUSY. Invade Two Homes in Venice; Make Way With Valuables.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.) VENICE, Nov. 1.—Burglars entered two homes here early today and made away with jewelry and other valuables valued at several hundred dollars.

Entering the apartment of E. R. Strong at the Eddy Mae Apartments, 26 Breeze avenue, for the third time within a month, thieves stole two diamond rings, clothing, a billfold containing two checks and other articles, it was reported to the police. On previous visits burglars stole a gun and suit case from Strong.

When O. H. Grady changed his clothing early today in his room in a Windward avenue rooming-house he laid a valuable watch, a billfold containing $40 in currency and other articles on a stand. When he returned for them a short time later they had disappeared.

ARREST IS MADE IN MAIL THEFT.
New York Broker Taken Into Custody in Connection With Robbery.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The first arrest in connection with the hold-up of a mail truck October 24, and the theft of cash and securities valued at more than $1,000,000, was made tonight when George De Manno, 30 years old, a broker, was held on a charge of being implicated. A commission is expected to announce soon a complete program of development work it will undertake for the development of the harbor and the expenditure of the $4,800,000 authorized by the voters last June, when that amount of bonds was voted. The board will hereafter meet at 8 a. m. on Tuesdays and Fridays at the City Hall.

WATER OFFICIAL OUSTED.

Imperial District Directors Remove Cronholm; Move on Foot to Recall Four of Board.

EL CENTRO, Nov. 1.—At the end of a bitter fight that lasted nearly all day, F. N. Cronholm, general manager of the Imperial Irrigation District, was deposed by the board of directors this afternoon. No action was taken toward the choice of a successor, but several candidates are under consideration. The deposition of Mr. Cronholm was effected by the acceptance of his resignation, which has been in the hands of Secretary McIver of the district for several days. It is said. Friends assert that the general manager was forced by three of the five members of the board of directors to resign. Mr. Cronholm's resignation is to take effect on the 10th inst. The meeting was attended by the full board, and by upward of a hundred farmers from all parts of the valley. Speeches were bitter at times. Those who favored the retention of Mr. Cronholm adjourned to the Courthouse, immediately after the vote was taken, which deposed the general manager and forming an organization which they named the American Farmers Protective Association of Imperial Valley, they adopted resolutions looking to the recall at the earliest possible date of the Imperial District Directors. Cronholm, Brockman and Nickerson. Mark Rose alone voted in favor of retaining Mr. Cronholm by voting against the acceptance of his resignation. The association first adopted a resolution providing for a demand for the resignation of the four directors, but later, deciding that none of the DEATH CALLING OLD BLACK JOE.

City Garbage-Hauling Horse Has Sweeney or Something and Will Be Shot.

The City Council was advised officially yesterday that Old Black Joe would be shot at sundown. Joe has hauled city garbage many years. "What's the matter with the horse?" asked one of the Councilmen. "The communication," said the minute clerk, adjusting his eyeglasses, "reports the animal is suffering from sweeney." "From what?" exclaimed Councilman Mallard, who knows all about automobiles. "I said 'sweeney,'" responded the clerk. "Is there such a thing as sweeney?" Mr. Mallard said, appealing to Assistant City Attorney Whitehead, who is supposed to know almost everything. "There is," Mr. Whitehead said emphatically, and then paused. "It's an equine form of seclusion," put in Councilman Conaway, much to the relief of the Assistant City Attorney. Thereupon several of the Councilmen looked sympathetic and no time was lost in asking the Finance Committee for $250 for a new horse.

ART EXHIBITS ATTRACT MANY

Remarkable Display is Made at Southwest Museum.

New School Developing Here, Declares Dr. Comstock.

Interesting Studies in Oils and Water Colors Shown.

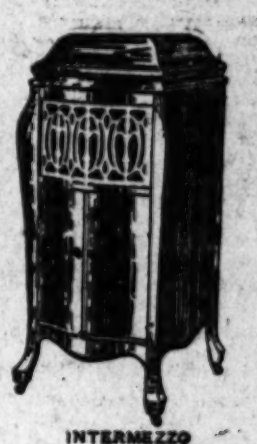

Hundreds of people, including the Mayor, members of the City Council and scores of prominent artists of Southern California, yesterday expressed appreciation of the remarkable display of paintings shown publicly for the first time at the Southwest Museum at the opening of the first annual comparative exhibit of paintings by California artists. The exhibit, free to all visitors, will last until November 10, and will be open daily from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m. Out of the 400 paintings submitted to the art committee only eighty-five were chosen for exhibition and to make sure of impartiality in the choice, the names of the contributors were hidden from the judges who "sentenced" the eighty-five pictures to be hung in the art gallery. The paintings, most of which are creations of Southern California artists, include interesting studies in water colors as well as in oils. Although a great variety of subjects is represented, landscapes and seascapes predominate because of the fact, as pointed out yesterday by James A. Nelson, chairman of the art committee, "the vivid colors of the Southwest are a constant challenge to the artist to reproduce them on canvas."

RARE COLORS

"Rich colors and such scenes are rare in the East," said Dr. J. A. Comstock, curator of the museum, "and group pictures predominate in the eastern cities. Our peculiarly beautiful environment here is largely responsible for the new school of art, which the Southland is developing. People generally do not seem to be aware of the fact that some of the best artists of the country are to be found in the Southland, and to let them know about these artists and develop a greater appreciation of their work is the main purpose of this exhibition."

Paintings representing the seasons are also found in abundance in the gallery, and although "September Morn" is not among the present, there is an "Early Autumn," a "Dunes in Winter," a "Morning Mist," an "April of Spring," and a "Summer," which help to console the visitor who might otherwise be sadly disappointed at the absence of his favorite painting.

PRIZES TO BE GIVEN.

Three prizes, aggregating $450, will be awarded to artists at the close of the exhibit, the jury of award consisting of Ernest A. Bachelder of Pasadena, Lockwood De Forest of Santa Barbara, Benjamin B. Hampton of Los Angeles, E. L. Kincaid of Tucson and J. Van Sloun of San Francisco. In addition to these prizes, $100 will be given to the artist who receives the most votes cast by the visitors.

Starting next Sunday, lectures on art by Miss Virginia E. Graff will be given at the museum each Sunday in the month at 3 p. m.

TEN MORE ROBBERIES

SWELL "CRIME WAVE."

NINE THOUSAND IN JEWELS STOLEN IN SHADOW OF POLICE STATION.

A jewelry store one block and a half from the Hollywood Police Station was robbed and nine residences were burglarized between 3 and 10 o'clock last night. Acting upon a telephone call from a friend that several suspicious-looking characters were loitering about his store at 4323 Hollywood Boulevard, J. Van den Akker, prominent Hollywood jeweler, went to investigate. He reported to the police that he found the rear door of his store broken open and $3000 worth of jewelry missing from his display window. Included in the loot were a solitaire blue-white diamond ring valued at $1200, three wrist watches valued at $100, a diamond bar pin valued at $400 and other pins and brooches. Capt. Home and Detective Sergt. Jarvis and McMahon investigated.

Mrs. E. Hunt reported to the police of the Lincoln Heights division that upon her return to her home at 243 South Eastlake avenue she discovered a slide window jimmied open and two watches, clothing and several small articles of jewelry, all valued at about $400, taken by burglars.

Thieves entered the apartment of Mrs. Helen M. Christensen at West Eleventh and Georgia streets and took silverware and china valued at $500, according to Mrs. Christensen's report.

Oaks reported that his home at 310 South Alvarado, was entered by a pass-key thief and valued at $250 taken.

The room of P. J. O'Connor at 326 1/2 West Third street was entered by a pass-key thief and clothing valued at $200 stolen. Charles Haynes reported clothing valued at $150 stolen from his room at 227 1/2 East First street. A locomotive bell weighing 100 pounds was stolen from the residence of Charles F. Thompson at 121 South Mount View avenue. Mr. Thompson reported to the police. He said he suspected several boys in the neighborhood.

L. Selzer reported that his room at 126 Los Angeles street had been entered by a pass-key thief and clothing valued at $60 taken.

Boys were again under suspicion when Mrs. E. L. Gers of 123 South Figueroa street, reported finding the door of her room at the above address open and $17.50 missing from a bureau drawer.

The home of C. H. Smith, 1323 North New Hampshire avenue, was burglarized last night of jewelry valued at $350. Police were notified that the valuables were taken during the absence of the occupants.

Kennedy Case Postponed as Burch Insanity Plea Jolts State.

WOOLWINE GETS TIME FOR REPLY.

Court Sets Monday for Moves in Death Hearing.

Mrs. Obenchain Also Granted Delay by Judge.

Defense Move Leads to Hot Words by Lawyers.

insane, he would be committed to one of the State hospitals for the insane and could not be tried for the murder until such time as the institution's authorities pronounced him sane.

In such an event, the trial of Mrs. Obenchain would be held first and this would be taken as an advantage to her since it is generally admitted the case against her is not as strong as that against Burch, whom the State contends slew Kennedy for Mrs. Obenchain.

Should Burch be found sane, however, he would then be placed on trial for the murder. The fact that a jury found him sane would not prevent the use of an insanity plea in the defense of the murder case.

Jury trial for sanity is provided for when the defendant asks for it. Unanimous agreement of the jurors, however, is not necessary for a verdict, the agreement of nine on the defendant's insanity being sufficient. In case of a disagreement, though, the defendant is judged sane, and the jury may also return such a verdict by agreement. When the hearing before the jury on the insanity issue is begun, the burden of proof shifts from the prosecution to the defense and it will be incumbent on Burch's counsel to show that he is insane.

CONTINUANCE GRANTED.
When court convened yesterday afternoon, Dist. Atty. Woolwine made his request for the case to be continued. The court then asked Mrs. Obenchain whether that would be satisfactory in her case, too. She replied that it would. Court was then adjourned.

The defense attorneys, Paul W. Schenck, Richard Schenck and J. Sullivan, the latter from Seattle, Wash., resented the statement made by Dist. Atty. Woolwine to the effect that the contention of insanity is a virtually a plea of guilty to the murder charge. Mr. Schenck declared such a statement indicated either a monumental ignorance of the law or was made for the purpose of prejudicing Burch in the eyes of the public.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.
The introduction of the insanity plea for Burch during the morning session came soon after Judge Reeve took the bench and the court was declared in session. The case of the people vs. Arthur C. Burch and Madalynne C. Obenchain was called by the clerk, Ruby Ross. Dist. Atty. Woolwine and Schenck replied that the people and the defense were ready.

Then Mr. Schenck rose, addressing the court and moving for the admission of Mr. Sullivan as associate counsel for Burch.

"If Your Honor please," he continued, "I have some affidavits to serve on the District Attorney," and he passed over a stack of legal documents to Mr. Woolwine and Deputy Keyes.

They began reading. The first was the affidavit of John J. Sullivan and began in a routine manner setting forth Mr. Sullivan's status in the courts of Washington and as an attorney. The principals in the case and the prospective jurymen settled down to listen. Mr. Schenck was making a point of reading the affidavit in a loud, clear voice, so that all could hear. It was believed that Mr. Schenck was paving the way to introduce any similar move by Mr. Woolwine toward Sullivan.

EXPLODES BOMBHELL.
But Mr. Schenck soon passed beyond the qualifications of his associate and read of the latter's first visit to Burch on last Sunday night in the County Jail. With startling effect upon the entire courtroom, Mr. Schenck continued reading in even tones when he quoted:

"The affiant is of the opinion that said defendant is an insane person and not mentally competent at this time to aid or assist affiant and his associate counsel, Paul W. Schenck and Richard Kittrell, to furnish a fair, just and legal defense to the charge preferred against him."

A reporter sitting near Mr. Obenchain inside the inner railing of the courtroom leaned over to say to another reporter, "see what the move is. They will force her trial first."

Mr. Obenchain turned to his former wife, who now is his client, and said, "The move is to be to force your trial first."

MADALYNNE SURPRISED.
She looked at him. Then she swallowed hard. She plainly was taken by surprise. Across the room in an opposite corner Burch was seated by his father. The former was listening with absorbed interest to Mr. Schenck as the latter continued with other affidavits. Burch had been kept in ignorance of the surprise move by his counsel.

With his voice never varying, Mr. Schenck continued with the reading, passing quickly from one to another of the seven affidavits that had been prepared. There came the affidavit of Richard Kittrell and of Mr. Schenck, each reiterating the belief of Mr. Sullivan that Burch's mental condition was such he could not advise his attorneys of the facts necessary to enable them to conduct for him a fair, rational, just and legal defense.

Burch was sitting in his chair, moving his arms and hands nervously. Mr. Woolwine, smiling broadly, arose from his chair near Mr. Schenck and sauntered over to the press bench, where he spoke a few words to a reporter. He glanced about the courtroom, still smiling, and resumed his seat.

MET WITH KNIFE, SAYS CHICAGOAN.

Erbsen Takes Crack at the District Attorney; Speaks to Advertising Club.

Charles E. Erbsen, here to defend Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, mentioned no names yesterday in his speech at the Advertising Club, but when he said that he had gone to a forum where he had a right to be and had been met with a knife in the hands of a possibly-misguided official, there seemed to be a suspicion in the minds of the audience that he referred to the District Attorney, introduced by Max Hammel, chairman of the meeting, as "one of the greatest criminal lawyers now in Southern California," Mr. Erbsen responded in part as follows:

"Seven and a half years ago today, in Chicago, I sat at the bedside of my oldest daughter, whom I feared was to be taken from me. On the advice of the family physician I brought her to beautiful Los Angeles. Your family, sir, your fruits and flowers and the unmatched hospitality of your people are responsible for her recovery. Today that girl's father waits your verdict as to whether or not he shall return to Chicago, disgraced in the eyes of the world, in spite of his sympathy or publicity; I ask only a fair deal."

Glancing at a silver trophy cup, soon to be awarded to the Ad Club winners in a golf game, he said: "I can't offer you any silver cups, nor such like trophies, but before I leave Los Angeles I hope to be able, honestly, conscientiously and legally, to make you a present of a nice little brief address was made by Ralph Obenchain, who said, in part: "Mr. Erbsen has been struck in the back, and the thrust has occasioned great grief to his friends, among whom I am glad and proud to be counted. In spite of this, to the contrary I wish to state that nothing but complete harmony exists between Mr. Erbsen, Mrs. Obenchain and her attorney."

A clever, instructive entertainment was given by H. G. Wright of the Southern California Telephone Company, who presented "Your Telephone Operator," a twenty-minute demonstration of miniature telephones by Miss Dorothy McDonald, instructress in the company operators' school. Music was furnished by Rudy Wiedoff and his Cinderella Roof orchestra.

Deserted Wife Wins Freedom in Court Here.

Mrs. Lillian M. Stout, who declared that she was deserted by Joseph H. Stout, Sept. 23, 1914, was granted a divorce in Judge Toland's court yesterday. The couple were married in Persimmon Gap, Okla., June 15, 1908. The community property is estimated to be worth $75,000. It was stated that a property settlement had been made out of court. Attorneys Tichnor and Carter represented Mrs. Stout.

FAVOR DISARMAMENT
(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
WHITTIER, Nov. 1.—Plymouth Congregational Church of this city has gone on record in favor of "the largest measure of disarmament," according to the following telegram which was sent to Charles E. Hughes, Secretary of State, and chairman of the United States delegation to the Conference on Limitation of Armaments, soon to convene in Washington, D. C.

"The congregation assembled at morning worship Sunday in Plymouth Congregational Church, Whittier, California, urged the representatives of the United States at the conference on Limitation of Armaments, to stand for the largest measure of disarmament. We earnestly hope and pray that the spirit of good will may dominate this gathering. —ERNEST E. DAY, Pastor; JOHN S. PHELPS, Clerk."

OIL FIELD ROMANCE TERMINATES IN COURT.
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
SANTA ANA, Nov. 1.—An oil-field romance which failed was brought to light here today, when Mrs. Bertha Paquette, Santa Ana widow, filed a $10,000 breach of promise suit against W. C. Lewman, Placentia oil worker.

The widow alleges she was courted and won last May, while employed as a nurse at Placentia and promised of marriage were exchanged. But Lewman has failed to keep his promise and now refuses to take her to court, she claims. This is the first heart-balm suit filed here for many months.

The Charm of Sound.

LIVES YEARS IN MINUTES.

Burch Suddenly Appears as Old Man When He Hears Insanity Plea; Madalynne in Dual Role.

was pure chagrin that his position as hero of the drama had been spoiled.

Once, during the reading of the affidavit, I saw him glance almost piteously over at Mrs. Obenchain to see how she was taking it. It had an electrical effect upon her.

Mrs. Obenchain stopped posing and came to. She seemed to realize that a new situation had been created that might be loaded with danger for her.

MADALYNNE IN COURT.
Mrs. Obenchain had been brought into court early in the morning before the crowds got in. She came in from the jail across the Bridge of Sighs.

The Bridge of Sighs is a long passageway over which prisoners have passed going one way in an agony of hope; and have returned in an agony of despair. On the walls of the passage prisoners have written inscriptions as they waited. One inscription that Mrs. Obenchain faced as she waited for the heavy iron doors to be opened, says in a scrawling hand, "Twenty years; good night."

Near it, some crook had sarcastically written the hobo sign which means, "A good house at which to beg; good grub and no dog."

Mrs. Obenchain was obviously dressed for the forlorn, picked-on, long-suffering flower. She wore a little knock-about cloth hat and a very plain, almost shabby, dark dress.

She took a seat in a corner just in front of the rail that separates the officials of the court from the audience. Next her sat the jail matron and next to the jail matron.

Her manner was shrinking and timid. She shook her head like a frightened child when a photographer asked her to pose for a picture.

WOMEN INDIGNANT.
To the great indignation of the courtroom filled with women jurors, the photographer took the picture anyhow, planting his tripod in front of the reluctant heroine.

There are many women who object to hanging as a punishment for murder; but there are very few women who would intervene to save a photographer from being lynched for taking a picture of a fix up for the ordeal.

All through the courtroom, Mrs. Obenchain heard them saying:

"Well, what do you think of his nerve? Look at him!"

I think it was his first realization that her fate may be in the hands of women.

Most of us think of murder trials as consisting to a great extent of fat old men jurors with tobacco juices leaking down their chins.

You could have got a fairly liberal education in the new fall styles looking over this array of prospective jurors.

Mrs. Obenchain sensed the situation at once. Most of the time during the morning, she sat with bowed head, half hidden behind a veil. Often she leaned her head wearily against the paneling of the room.

I never shall forget her exit, at noon; and her return entrance in the afternoon.

When the court adjourned at noon, she fairly scuttled out across the corridor. When she returned through the door of the "Bridge of Sighs," her shoulders were drooping. Her hair was matted. She made me think of a wounded bird.

MAKES "ENTRANCE."
When she came back in the afternoon.

But she could not fairly be said to come back. She made an entrance.

The door swung open and in stepped a smiling, confident, rather dazzling figure in blue with a low-cut neck and a diaphanous gown that showed the gleam of her skin under the texture. She wore a little brown fur box with a fascinating gleam of white flesh between the line of the blue gown and the fur.

Mrs. Obenchain may know men; but she also knows women.

She had given way to charm. She had that air of sweet depression; that "I-trust-I-am-not-taking-too-much-of-your-time" sort of air.

Burch also had recovered during the noon hour. His father, a fine-looking gentleman still in the prime of life, sat at his side and he was the picture of a man attempting to carry off the situation with a heavy business-like air.

His lips were pursed up as the forerunner of his two hands were poised together like a banker considering a charity application for a loan for a colored Baptist church, something he had to listen to with respectful attention, but did not intend to grant.

BURCH BUST.
Presently, Burch bounced over to the press section and borrowed a newspaper with a screaming headline about his insanity plea. He very forcibly suggested the young man who always dashes busily up and down the aisles with an air of heavy responsibility at amateur theatricals just before the curtain goes up.

His gray pallor was gone. A smelly red flower adorned his buttonhole. Every now and then he glanced over at Mrs. Obenchain. He was talking very blithely with a reporter when she rose to leave the courtroom on her way back to jail; Burch nearly twisted his neck off trying to see around the newspaper man.

They didn't take him back through the "Bridge of Sighs." They led him down Buena Vista street for the half-block from the entrance of the courtroom to the jail door.

To say Burch enjoyed this situation is putting it mildly. He simply licked it up.

The street was densely crowded with people—mostly women. Some had even taken station on the lawn of the Courthouse to get a good view of the hero of the day.

While Burch was walking down the sidewalk to clear the way, as for a legal procession, Burch came treasuring along on the arms of two deputy sheriffs. He was chatting and laughing with them. He had the same air of nonchalance and sunshine, champagne and flowers that the speaker of the evening had when the "committed-to-the-asylum-speaker-to-the-chair" takes him up the main aisle and the crowd whistles. "There he is!"

Burch may get hanged or be put in an insane asylum, or a prison or a hospital; but he has lived. "Yea, brethren, he has lived."

SHANGHAIED, HE SAYS.
Sailor Found on Spindrift Held Here as Boat Thief.

Telling a story of having been shanghaied by a mysterious Britisher and carried far out into the Pacific on a cruise, the destination of which he did not know, Anton Krogh, a Norwegian sailor, accused of stealing the yacht Spindrift, was brought from San Diego to this city yesterday by Under Sheriff Biscailuz.

He was on board the yacht when it was towed into San Diego Harbor. An inquiry into the story of Krogh was made at San Diego by the undersheriff, Capt. A. C. Jewell of the Sheriff's office and Walter Hunter of the District Attorney's office. Krogh stoutly asserted that the missing Britisher lost his life by falling overboard. Bail for the defendant was fixed at $10,000 and he was committed to the County Jail.

TAKE STEP FOR NEW JAIL HERE.

Councilmen Favor City Part in Hall of Justice.

Supervisor Says County Will Build Whether or No.

Committee Report to Come Up for Vote Today.

The City Council yesterday, sitting as a committee of the whole, took first steps toward placing the city on record as willing to join with the county in building and jointly occupying the proposed new $2,250,000 Hall of Justice.

In this ten-story building, which is to be located on the site of the present County Jail and adjacent buildings, will be the County and City Jails, the Sheriff's office and city police headquarters, city police courts and county criminal courts.

The city is to pay as its share of the cost of construction of the building annual rental for a period of twenty years, the amount to be paid each year being 5 per cent of the cost of constructing that portion of the Hall of Justice, estimated at three-tenths of the entire building, to be occupied by the city criminal departments and jail. It is estimated that the city's share of the construction cost will be $875,000, making the annual rental $22,750. If the city uses less jail space or office room, the rental will be correspondingly less.

ASKS SHOWDOWN.

Supervisor Bean appeared before the Council yesterday and asked that the Councilmen say whether or not Los Angeles desires to join in the Hall of Justice project.

"The Supervisors are going ahead with a new building," said Supervisor Bean, "whether the city goes in with us or not. We are not asking Los Angeles to join with us, but we believe that the taxpayers who employ us and you will be benefited by a joint building."

The Council's special committee, composed of Councilmen Mushet, Langdon and Allan, recommended that the project for a joint use of the building be endorsed by the City Council. The vote on adopting the committee's report was 10-2 in favor of Councilmen Allan, Conaway, Langdon, Mallard and Mushet (5); opposed, Sparks and Wheeler and President Cresswell (3). Councilman Sanborn was absent.

ACTION DUE TODAY.

The City Council this morning will receive the report of the committee of the whole endorsing the city-county Hall of Justice project, and President Cresswell announced that six votes will be required to adopt the report, thus definitely placing the city on record in favor of the plan, as an expenditure of money is called for in carrying out the proposal.

Councilman Sanborn's action at today's session will determine whether or not Los Angeles is to have a new modern City Jail and police courts and police headquarters in the new building, for his vote will be necessary with those of the five Councilmen who voted for the project in order to adopt the report of the committee of the whole.

CHAMBER ELECTS NEW PRESIDENT.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ONTARIO, Nov. 1.—C. E. Mead, prominent Ontario business man, was unanimously elected president of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce for the ensuing year at the annual meeting of members held last night at Chaffey High School.

Mr. Mead served the chamber as vice-president during the year just closed and has always taken an active part in the workings of the chamber body. He succeeds Welles T. Ross as president.

The election followed a get-together supper in the Chaffey cafeteria, which was largely attended by members. The Chaffey orchestra, under the direction of Fred Wilding, Jr., furnished music during the event.

HOW TO SERVE ORANGE, LEMON.

Prof. Lumiere of the Academy of Science in Paris is authority for the statement that cooked foods alone would kill one in a year's time. Vitamins, the food element vital to life, are largely destroyed by cooking. The raw food most acceptable to the palate is fruit. Oranges will supply whatever lack of vitamins exists in your diet.

Most persons would use oranges and lemons often if they could think of different attractive ways to serve them. A free booklet containing more than 200 recipes will be sent to any reader of this paper. Mail the coupon below, enclosing 2 cents in stamps for return postage.

HOT FINISH FOR HARBOR LANDMARK.

Torch Applied to Old Tug Warrior, Once Happy Home for Mission to Seamen.

The old tug Warrior, the first to see service at Los Angeles Harbor and for many years a landmark on the beach of Terminal Island, opposite the Fifth-street landing, was burned yesterday afternoon by direction of the Harbor Commissioners to get her out of the way of the men engaged in widening the main channel.

Built in 1880, the Warrior plied in and out of the harbor, towing schooners that sailed between the local port and San Francisco. In 1906, few schooners remained, the tug was taken over by a religious organization and beached opposite the Fifth-street landing. She was named the Bethel Mission and for several years rescue work among seafaring men was carried on aboard her. About five years ago she was abandoned as a mission, her fittings were removed and she was left on the beach to the mercy of the elements. Bit by bit her hull has been crumbling until there was little left for the flames, but a skeleton of her former self.

Firemen from the San Pedro fire station and fire be saturated the hull with oil and set a torch to her, while the fire boat stood by to control the blaze and protect adjoining property.

SETTLE LONG BATTLE FOR "HIP" CONTROL.

RAMISH INTERESTS IN MANY THEATERS ARE BOUGHT BY LOWE FOR BIG SUM.

A war in theatrical circles that has been raging for some months, was amicably settled yesterday when, by a stipulation entered in Judge Hewitt's court, Gilbert Gardner, receiver of the Hippodrome Theater in this city, was discharged. His appointment followed a fight between stockholders. One faction wanted to call a stockholders' meeting and was opposed by Adolph Ramish, president of the Hippodrome.

Mr. Ramish owned one-half of the Hippodrome stock and Low, Inc., the other half. Low, Inc., has bought Mr. Ramish's interests in theaters at Portland, Seattle, San Francisco, Sacramento, Long Beach, Salt Lake and Fresno. The amount involved in this deal is very large, but the parties to it declined to give the approximate figure.

The legal battery represented in Judge Hewitt's court yesterday included Oscar Low, R. McLaughlin, Vincent Morgan and A. S. Newburgh, the latter from San Francisco, and Gilbert Gardner.

TRAFFIC OFFICER HURT.

Los Angeles Policeman Knocked Down and Injured by Auto.

Traffic Officer Dewey Lynde, 27 years of age, of 815 Merwin street, was out and bruised yesterday afternoon when he was knocked down at Sixth and Los Angeles streets by an automobile driven by George B. Wilson of 308 East Third street. The officer was taken to the Receiving Hospital for treatment and then removed to his home. No arrests were made by the investigating police, who said the accident was unavoidable.

FAKE TAX COLLECTORS.

Farmers Near Montebello Are Heavy Losers in New Swindle Game.

If two men in an automobile stop at your farm, and say they are tax collectors who wish to assess you $1 an acre, make them show their credentials, is the advice given yesterday by Supt. Manning of the criminal department of the Sheriff's office.

Mr. Manning stated that two men had obtained considerable money in this manner from farmers near Montebello.

Joining the Christmas Club Puts an Aeolian-Vocalion in Your Home on Easy Terms

In support of the movement for a "sensible" Christmas, Hamburger's has formed this Christmas Talking Machine Club to enable you to add to your Christmas and all-year-round happiness, that greatest of all factors—Music—without the usual heavy outlay and expense.

The Club Offers Great Advantages

By clubbing together in this way to buy a number of instruments the merchant benefits by spreading the usual last-minute rush over November, and can give his customers the advantage of buying in quantities. If they arrange to buy at a time that is most convenient to the merchant they benefit and profit still more by way of certain deliveries and club offers such as this.

The Plan of the Club Offer

Any responsible person may apply for membership. Membership in the Club is limited to 100 members—that is 100 instruments only will be sold in this way. The membership fee is only 1.00—a fee that is refunded if the instrument is not purchased by November 30th or the membership rejected.

The membership fee applies to the purchase price of the instrument.

Closing date of club membership is November 30th, 1921, or before if the 100 membership is filled.

Membership in the club does not obligate you—it assures you of unusual privileges and absolute delivery, providing you select your instrument before November 30th.

Club Privileges

The possession of an instrument of unrivaled excellence.

A 1.00 membership fee entitles you to delivery of instrument by Christmas Eve or a few days before, if you wish.

The most lenient of payment terms—more lenient than otherwise procurable; in fact, payments as low as 1.75 weekly, with expensive models necessitating but a trifle more weekly.

A guarantee of money refund any time within five days from date of delivery of instrument. Cartage or possible repair cost being charged and deducted.

In case of illness or loss of employment you may make one-half of the regular weekly or monthly payments for as many weeks or months as you have already paid in full.

The Vocalion you select may be exchanged within sixty days for any other instrument then in our stock—of equal or greater value than the one first selected—and full credits for payments will be given towards the new selection.

Special Offer of Records

Up to ten records (twenty selections) will be added to the price of the instrument selected and you may pay for them on the same monthly plan as the machine itself.
